COSSACKS ARE SLAUGHTERING ODESSA JEWS

Police Look on While Troops Plunder Their Victims' Deserted Homes.

FIGHTING IN STREETS

"Black Hundreds" Are Circulating Proclamations Inciting Massacre.

ARREST DUMA MEMBERS

Czar, Trembling at Peterhof, Is Paving Way for Military Dictator.

REDS IMPOSE DEATH SENTENCE ON CZAR.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 24.—Proclamations announcing that the death sentence has been imposed on the Emperor, Gen. Trepoff, M. Pobiedonostseff, who was procurator general of the Holy Synod; Gen. Orloff, the "pacificator" of the Baltic provinces and others has been scattered over part of Peterhof.

The Terrorists are said to have succeeded in nailing copies of the sentence on the doors of Gen. Orloff's and Gen. Trepoff's quarters.

ODESSA, July 24.—Anti-Jewish outbreaks have commenced here. A number of persons have already been killed or wounded.

Cossacks and rowdies are plundering the deserted Jewish houses and shops.

On Srednala street three Jews were killed and three were wounded in attempting to defend their property, while the police looked on.

Another bloody conflict is now reported to be in progress in Stepovia street.

The whole city is in a state of panic. Many of the inhabitants are fleeing.

The Black Hundreds are distributing bloodthirsty proclamations in the streets.

FOUR SINGER STORES WRECKED BY DYNAMITE.

SOSNOWICE, Russian Poland, July 24.—Simultaneously at noon bombs were thrown into four stores of the Singer Sewing Machine Co., located here, at Bendzin, at Zawierze and at Czenstochau, wrecking each of the shops and wounding many persons. The bomb throwers were agents of the Polish Socialistic party, which had made the Singer company an example of what may happen to others for refusing to contribute to the revolutionary cause.

Emissaries of the party asked the representative of the Singer company's Polish branch to pay a certain sum for the benefit of the party. The agent refused to do so, and was informed that the shops would be destroyed. In each instance a man entered the stores and ordered the women and clerks to leave. It appears that in some instances the employes refused to leave and the bombs were thrown without any further utterances.

In the Sosnowice branch eight persons were injured, one of whom will lose his eyesight. Four persons were arrested here, including the probable thrower of the bomb.

Intense excitement prevails here and Cossacks are patroling the streets. A sort of reign of terror exists, as other business houses have been threatened, and the public has little confidence in the power of the police to prevent fanatical deeds of violence in the name of liberty.

PAVING A WAY FOR MILITARY DICTATOR.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 24.—Most of the members of the outlawed Duma, who held a meeting at Viborg yesterday and issued an address to the people, arrived here today from Viborg. A popular demonstration was prevented.

The way has been prepared for a military dictatorship by a proposition now under consideration at Peterhof to create an advisory council to assist the Emperor. Premier Stolypin, Gen. Trepoff and others are today conferring with the Emperor upon this subject. On the surface the scheme is to form such a council out of the members of the council of the empire and Conservatives and Liberals, and also possibly several Constitutional Democratic leaders, with the purpose of reassuring the population of the sincerity of the Government's future intentions.

M. Stolypin evidently believes sincerely that the plan is achievable, but it is certain that none of the Constitutional Democrats will brave the charge of open treason in giving co-operation to any Government measure after the step to which they committed themselves at Viborg.

Czar Weak-Kneed.

The plan, therefore, which is foredoomed to failure, seems to be a deliberate plot of the court camarilla to induce the Emperor, who shows weakness and vacillation in the present crisis, when energy and nerve are imperative, to entrust the direction of affairs to an advisory council, and while nominally the council would retain the authority, the Camarilla would gradually absorb its power and exercise a virtual dictatorship, as did Count Lorish-Melikoffs' committee of public safety during the terrorist era preceding the assassination of Alexander II.

Domiciliary searches continue in all quarters of the capital, the prisons are already filling and the old system of attempting to conceal from the people what is happening has been adopted. The censorship of the press has been reestablished with a vigor unknown since the days of the late Interior Minister Von Plehve, accompanied by the wholesale confiscation of newspapers. No word of the proceedings has been permitted to be published. Telegrams from the provinces, telling of the universal

OGLED WITH A SINGLE OPTIC

Two Women Complain of One-Eyed "Masher."

Mrs. Mary Pepers of 1222 South Newstead avenue was called "honey" by a one-eyed, gray-haired "masher" near her home Sunday morning. She didn't fancy the term from a stranger, so she fled. The police were notified.

A gray-haired man, presumably the one who addressed Mrs. Pepers, met Mrs. Pepers' next door neighbor, Miss Edna Davey, not far from the house the evening before and spoke to her endearingly. She ran and he followed. Breathless when she reached home, she told her mother of the strange, gray-haired man. The police have a desscription and are seeking him.

CLAIMS BEIT'S HALF-BILLION

Woman Declares She Was Engaged to Diamond King.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., July 24.—Saying she is the heiress to the fortune of $500,000,000 left by Alfred Beit, the South African, Mrs. Maray E. Hill of 35 High street, Plymouth, is preparing to go to England to press her claim. She says she was engaged to marry Beit five years ago, but because of family troubles could not leave Plymouth. According to her statement, Beit answered her advertisement for a husband in a Boston paper and after some correspondence, proposed to her. She says her son tore up the love letters.

POURS MILK INTO STREET

East Side Officer Seizes Product With Formaldehyde.

Dr. A. A. McBrien, Health Inspector of East St. Louis, seized a consignment of 30 gallons of milk at the Relay Depot Tuesday morning and discovered that it contained formaldehyde to prevent it from spoiling.

The milk was shipped from Formosa, Ill., to a large dairy on the East Side, but Dr. McBrien ordered it disposed of and the 30 gallons were poured into the gutters.

The health officers have been exercising especial diligence to detect the shipment of impure milk, the report having been circulated that quantities were being received by East Side dairies which contained embalming fluid.

Investigation revealed that consignments were being sent from Formosa and the health officers were at the Relay Depot when the 8:17 Vandalia train brought in the milk Tuesday.

FIDO HAS HIS OWN CEMETERY

Said to Be Only One in Existence and Is Well Ordered.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WOOSTER, O., July 24.—This city, it is asserted, has the only regularly laid out and plotted cemetery for the exclusive burial of dogs in the world, and likewise has the first official dog funeral director. The gentleman who has the distinction of being the dog undertaker is Andrew O'Brien.

The office was created by the Council after a long controversy between officials as to whose duty it was to look after dead dogs. Mayor Van Nest named Mr. O'Brien for the place and he has gone ahead and laid out the cemetery. In his announcement Mr. O'Brien declares that there will be no Sunday funerals nor flowers permitted at any time.

The schedule of prices, which include digging of grave and lot, is: For small dogs or pups, 50 cents; good-sized dog, 75 cents; a dog that has been a good while dead, $1.

REPUBLICANS TO PAY OR WALK

St. Louis Delegates Will Get No Passes.

The St. Louis delegates to the Republican Judicial Convention to be held at Jefferson City Thursday will not ride on passes. This announcement was made at a meeting of the Central Committee in the Equitable Building Monday night. The Missouri Pacific offered a special rate of $4.25 for the round trip, and it was announced that this offer would be accepted.

R. W. Fientge, candidate for Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner, addressed the committee. Edward Koeln presided in the absence of Chairman Howe.

SOBER AFTER 20 GLASSES?

Blacksmith's Helper Insisted That He Was Not Drunk.

Fred Smith of 7913 Overbeck street was recommended as a human reservoir Tuesday by Judge Pollard, when Smith, accused of being drunk, said, "Why, I wasn't drunk; I only drank 20 glasses of beer," and he seemed surprised to think that the Court should believe a man could be intoxicated by this small amount of brew. He was fined $3 and costs.

Smith was found asleep on the stone coping of Gin Grass Creek bridge, about 8000 North Broadway Monday evening. He was lying on the edge of the coping and should he have fallen off would have dropped 20 feet to the water below.

He argued with Policemen Ruel and Lee when they urged him to go with them and insisted on being permitted to sleep where he was. They took him along, however, and he was taken into the Dayton Street Police Court Tuesday. He is a blacksmith's helper, about 23 years old.

After that trial Otto Wildberger of 4982 Easton avenue was arraigned because he was sleeping Monday night on the grounds of the Christian Brothers' College. He declared that he had not been drunk and was just sleepy, and he protested that he had the privilge of sleeping anywhere in the United States.

When Judge Pollard assessed a fine of $5 and costs, Wildberger opened his eyes in astonishment and staring at the Court incredulously, demanded, "Who, me?" He was assured that he was the person meant.

TRAIN DASHES FROM TUNNEL INTO A LAKE

Fast Mail on Great Northern Plunges Over a 70-Foot Embankment.

SEVEN DEAD; SCORE HURT

Coupling Held Smoker or the Loss of Life Would Have Been Greater.

THE ENGINE DISAPPEARS

At Bottom of Lake Which Is Estimated to Be 300 Feet Deep.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 24.—At the rate of 45 miles an hour, the through mail and express on the Great Northern Railroad emerged from the tunnel a mile and a quarter east of Camden, Wash., jumped the track late yesterday evening on a sharp curve and plunged over a 70-foot embankment into Diamond Lake.

The engine broke loose from the rest of the train and disappeared in 300 feet of water. The baggage and express car and smoker were held to the sleepers and tourist cars by the coupling pins, and were only partly submerged. The unsumbered part of the smoker burned.

At least seven lives were lost, seven persons were seriously injured and a score more sustained cuts and bruises in the wreck

Camden, at which place the wreck occurred, is 35 miles east of Spokane and the sharp curve at the tunnel near that place is one of the most dangerous on the line.

The locomotive, mail, baggage and smoker left the rails on emerging from the tunnel, and, plunging over the 70-foot embankment, were submerged in the waters of the lake where the engine entirely disappeared.

Spreading rails, probably caused by sun kinks, is given as the cause of the accident.

The dead:

N. EDWARD MUNSON, engineer; Hillyard, Wash.

FRANK BELL, fireman; Hillyard.

CHARLES DANNER, mail clerk, Spokane.

GEORGE R. STICKLAND, express messenger.

GEORGE HOWARD CURTICE, Spokane; lumberman.

T. J. DOLBOW, Spokane.

Unidentified man at Buchanan's undertaking rooms; has brown mustache and wears an Odd Fellow pin.

Among the seriously injured are:

Walter N. Ross, news agent, Seattle; wrist cut.

Henry Bjocum, Minot, N. D.; badly burned and hurt internally.

Immediately after the smoker struck the lake there was a blinding flash, supposed to be due to the explosion of the gas tank, and flames spread over the part of the car not submerged, and a fire followed.

The impact was so terrific that several cars on the rear of the train were wrenched and twisted and the fact that the couplings did not break on the dining, tourist and sleeping cars was the only thing that averted even greater loss of life. Engineer Munson and Fireman Bell evidently stuck to their posts.

It is believed that the locomotive is in from 100 to 300 feet of water. Two divers made half a dozen attempts to find it, but were not successful.

W. S. Ninneman, a contractor for construction work on the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Co., broke through a window to escape from the burning and half-submerged smoker. Mr. Ninneman said:

"We were coming at a fearful speed through that tunnel and we passengers were all wondering if the engineer had lost his senses, driving at that rate of speed with such a sharp curve ahead. I think we must surely have been going 45 miles an hour."

GREAT NORTHERN MAKES AN OFFICIAL REPORT.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 24.—The office of General Superintendent Slade of the Great Northern Railroad today gave out the following statement regarding the wreck near Camden, Wash.:

"Train No. 3, engine No. 930, left the track at the west end of the tunnel, one and one-half miles east of Camden, Wash. The engine and the mail car went into the lake and are out of sight. The baggage car also went into the lake, but is merely submerged below the surface.

"Engineer Munson, Fireman Bell, Baggageman Strickland, Mail Clerk Charles Danners and one passenger, George E. Curtis of Spokane, were drowned. The gas tank under the mail car exploded and set fire to the first-class coach, but the fire was extinguished by the train crew and passengers. A relief train with physicians was on the scene in 45 minutes, and the passengers were transferred and taken to Spokane, where the injured are resting easily."

MUCH OPIUM SMOKED DAILY IN LAUNDRIES

Gillaspy Says Conditions All Over City as Bad as in "Hop Alley."

NOT AGAINST ORDINANCE

Use of Drug Violates No Law and Users Say They Smoke Substitute.

POLICE MAKE TWO RAIDS

Seven Prisoners Taken at One Place Dismissed on Vagrancy Charge.

Acting Chief of Police Gillaspy said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Tuesday that in nearly every Chinese Laundry in St. Louis the conditions as to the use of drugs are as bad as in "Hop Alley," but that the Police Department can do nothing, because men and women frequenters of the laundries and of the "alley" plead that the drug which they use is not opium, but a cheap substitute which they call "hasheesh."

In any event, he says, it would be impossible to convict the frequenters, because there is no ordinance against smoking opium any more than there is against drinking whisky.

This statement followed a report made by Arthur Stahl, a private detective employed by Circuit Attorney Sager. Stahl says that conditions in Hop Alley, the district between Seventh and Ninth streets and Chestnut and Walnut streets, are such as to call for a police investigation.

The report was referred to Acting Chief Gillaspy, who ordered patrolmen in the district to make arrests wherever it is found that opium is smoked. Soon after these instructions were issued two raids were made, one in the rear of 822 Market street and the other at 10 North Fourteenth street.

Seven Prisoners Discharged.

At the Market street address Li Lac, the Chinese proprietor, and five white men and one woman were arrested. They are held at the Four Courts pending a police investigation.

At the Fourteenth street house there were nine arrests, including Joe See, the proprietor, and Carrie McDonald, who gave her address as 105 Center street. The case against See and the McDonald woman were continued to July 31, and the others were released when it was found that charges of vagrancy could not be made against them, as they all had homes and regular employment.

In the absence of an ordinance against opium-smoking, Judge Tracy of the City Hall Police Court has repeatedly ruled that persons addicted to this habit cannot be held unless they are proved to be without means of support.

Whenever the proprietors of opium joints have been brought before him he has fined them $300, the maximum provided for in the ordinance, but in several cases Judge Moore of the Court of Criminal Correction has reduced these fines to $50, the minimum.

Circuit Attorney Sager says that as there is no State law against opium smoking, he can do nothing.

Policemen who walk the "Hop Alley" beats say that there are practically no joints there, and that the district is quieter than it has been for years.

SIX INJURED IN WAREHOUSE FIRE

"Fair Tuesday night and Wednesday; slightly warmer. Light, southerly winds."

The present coolness extends East and South, but not West. Out at Phoenix, Ariz., it got as hot as 112 degrees Monday afternoon, and there are no very cool places in the Central Pacific States. There has been rain in the Ohio Valley, Tennessee, Kansas and Oklahoma.

TRUST COMPANY TELLER WHO HAS DISAPPEARED LEAVING SHORTAGE

CHARLES H. EVERLY. HURILLO PHOTO.

CIBORIUM SAVED BY HEROIC PRIEST

Rev. Fr. Nieters Entered Burning Building to Get Blessed Sacrament.

SISTERS' HOME ON FIRE

Defective Flue Started Flames Which Were Confined to the Roof.

Rev. Father Herman Nieters, pastor of St. Boniface's Catholic Church, rescued the ciborium containing the Blessed Sacrament from the tabernacle in the chapel of the convent building, adjoining the church at 7622 Michigan avenue, while the building was on fire Monday afternoon.

The building is occupied by 10 Sisters of Charity, who are teachers in St. Boniface's parochial school. The convent is three stories high, the top floor containing the chapel and one small room. Mass is said in the chapel every day by one of the priests of St. Boniface's Church and, as is the custom in Catholic churches, the Blessed Sacrament is kept in the tabernacle.

Fire, caused by a defective flue, started a blaze in the roof above the chapel. L. Julius, who was passing, saw the flames and sounded an alarm. Clanging engines were the first notice to the sisters that their home was burning. They were all in the lower part of the building.

When they saw the chapel in danger, they hurriedly notified the priests and Father Nieters responded to their call. He rushed to the chapel and carried the ciborium safely out of the burning building.

The fire did about $400 damage. While the fire was in progress the sisters busied themselves carrying property from the burning building. Only the roof, however, was burned.

MRS. NOLKER GOES EAST TO RECOVER

Wealthy Widow Unstrung by Auto Accident Causing Man's Death.

Without informing any save her most intimate acquaintances of her intention, Mrs. F. W. Nolker, who recently collapsed under a nervous strain after an automobile in which she and Edwin A. Lemp were driving ran down and killed Ernest Shank, left St. Louis for New York last Saturday morning. Mrs. Nolker was accompanied by one of her physicians, her maid and a trained nurse.

Friends heard Tuesday that it was the intention of the party to sail for Europe but a servant at the Nolker residence said that no such plans were known to her.

The servant said that it was Mrs. Nolker's intention and desire to remain in a sanitarium until she was fully recovered. There was no marked improvement during the last few days Mrs. Nolker was in St. Louis.

One of Mrs. Nolker's physicians said Tuesday that she might go to Europe later, but that he did not think the party would sail soon after reaching New York.

Burglars Not Vegetarians.

The burglars who looted the pantry of Mrs. Robert E. L. Winter, 4154 Delmar boulevard, were not vegetarians. They took a chicken, a half dozen trains, a dozen eggs and some butter while they "passed up" tomatoes, corn, string beans and celery. A step ladder was used to get into the house through a side window.

Child's Bank Stolen.

During the absence of the family burglars entered the residence of S. A. Weidner, 5986 Garfield avenue, Monday evening and after ransacking the house from top to bottom, emptying dresser drawers and scattering their contents about, took a child's bank containing 75 nickels. The intruders gained entrance by forcing the basement door.

FIELD ESTATE IS ACCUSED OF DODGING TAXES

Chicago Corporation Counsel Complains Against Late Merchant King's Heirs.

$2,633,000 IS INVOLVED

Stocks and Bonds Alleged to Have Been Removed to New York.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Corporation Counsel Lewis complained to the Board of Review today that the estate of the late Marshall Field had removed stocks and bonds, valued at $2,633,000, to New York to avoid taxation here.

Counsel for the estates statesthat the property is not taxable.

FIVE POLICEMEN ARE SUSPENDED

Automobile Officer Charged With Using Revolver to Make Noise.

Five policemen were suspended Tuesday after the filing of charges against them, and will be arraigned for trial before the Police Board Friday.

James Cooney of the Mounted District, who is in charge of the police automobile, is charged with unbecoming conduct in having trouble with his neighbor, John Bagwell. Cooney lives at 6828 Manchester avenue. Bagwell's residence adjoins.

Bagwell complains that on the afternoon of the Fourth of July Cooney's son exploded a torpedo cane repeatedly with such noise that it annoyed Mrs. Bagwell, who was ill. When Bagwell asked that the noise be stopped, he avers that Cooney got a revolver and with that instrument uncorked an obligato to the martial music made by his son with the torpedo cane. Bagwell alleges that Cooney added the following vocal contribution:

"You people make me sick. If you want a little noise, I'll give it to you."

Bagwell further alleges that Cooney called "Spot," "Spot," at him (Bagwell) in the same tone of voice that he calls his dog of that name.

The automobile policeman denies the charges. He says he called "Scot" all right, but was referring to his dog, not to Bagwell.

Policeman Charles Alexander is charged with unbecoming conduct in assaulting a citizen. Alexander, it seems, was called to a dance hall at Leonard and Easton avenues by the proprietor, who said toughs were raising a disturbance. Alexander responded and one John Maupin, residence not announced, swears that Alexander cracked him over the cerebellum with his club. Maupin deposes that he is not one of the toughs who created the disturbance and thinks the board should punish Alexander for his lack of discretion.

Policeman Michael Kelleher, who is stationed at the City Dispensary, is charged with leaving that place and going home without resorting to the formality of reporting himself sick.

Policeman James Sullivan of the Dayton Street Station is charged with calling Mrs. Mary Bauer a "liar."

SPAUGH'S FATE WITH JURY

Testimony All In and Closing Arguments Are Finished.

CENTERVILLE, Mo., July 24.—Closing arguments in the trial of Arthur Spaugh for the murder of Sheriff Polk are being made and the case will be given to the jury right after dinner. The evidence was finished yesterday and the State has made a strong case.

Arthur Spaugh's own testimony was about the best evidence the State had. His brother William, who is under sentence of death, was also a witness yesterday afternoon.

WOMAN'S LETTERS ARE BANK'S CLEW TO MISSING TELLER

Officers of St. Louis Union Trust Company Believe Woman Other Than Wife Has Knowledge of Charles H. Everly's Departure, Basing Belief on Mail Received.

THEY PLANNED TO MEET DURING HIS VACATION

Everly's Wife and the Pastor of His Church Tell of His Seemingly Model Life and Declare He Was Devoted to Home and Family.

Officials of the St. Louis Union Trust Co. and of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co. are prosecuting a search for Charles H. Everly, the missing teller, who confessed a shortage of $5000, in the belief that another woman, not his wife, is concerned in his sudden departure. Their belief is based on certain letters written by a woman indicating that he and she were to meet in Colorado during his vacation.

Meanwhile Mrs. Everly, who is at her home, 2905 Morgan street, vows her faith in her husband. Members of St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran Church, in which both Everly and his wife were leaders, tell of his model habits and his devotion to his wife.

It has developed that Everly received letters from Colorado at the bank. One, however, arrived after he left and was forwarded to his home.

The bank asked Mrs. Everly to turn over to them all letters and papers that might aid its officials in their investigations. She turned over this letter among other documents.

This letter was written by a woman from Colorado, and referred to the fact that Everly and his wife were soon coming to that State on their vacation trip.

Wife Planning Vacation.

Mrs. Everly had been planning for the vacation trip for some time and had been saving money for it.

The fact that Mrs. Everly had been saving money for this trip illustrates the economical way they lived. His salary was between $175 and $200 a month. They paid $45 a month rent for their house at 2905 Franklin avenue, where Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Wenke, Mrs. Everly's parents, resided with them.

Mrs. Everly says her husband never was away from home without her at night except when he went to his bowling club. The only club he belonged to is the Missouri Athletic. They spent little money on amusements she said, seldom going to the theater. Their greatest outlay in this line she said, was $10 a year subscription to the Apollo Club concerts.

In connection with Everly's speculation, it has been discovered that he took actual cash, substituting worthless paper therefor. The details of his system have not yet been discovered, however.

Members of St. Mark's English Lutheran Church are unanimous in their praise of Everly's career in so far as they knew it.

Home Life Was Happy.

"The home life of Mr. and Mrs. Everly was beautiful," said Rev. Mosleih Rhodes, pastor of the church. "I have never in my life seen a man and his wife more to each other. I cannot understand what could have led him to do such a thing. It is absolutely unexplainable.

"Every person who knew them, with whom I have talked today, says the same thing. It is a strange case, and Mrs. Everly has the sincerest sympathy of everybody in the church. If anything can be done to help her in her trouble, it will certainly be done, and there will be no lack of helping hands. I know that Mrs. Everly is perfectly sincere when she says that she knows there was no other woman connected with this unfortunate affair. I cannot believe it myself, either, for he was never away from her."

Neill A. McMillan, vice-president of the St. Louis Union Trust Co., gave out the following written statement:

"On the morning of July 18 a shortage of about $5000 was discovered in the accounts of the St. Louis Union Trust Co. This discovery was brought to light by a system of checking the accounts each morning. When advised that there was a shortage in the books, the officers went to work to discover where the blame was, and by 11 o'clock evithe blame had been fixed. The defalcation had accumulated against C. H. Everly, paying teller, to such an extent that he confessed.

"The surety company on his bond was at once notified, and Everly promised to remain at home and be subject to the call of any officer of the company at any time. He called up the office by telephone Thursday evening and Friday morning. Since that time he has not been heard from.

"The loss is fully covered by bond, and the matter is now in the hands of the surety company for adjustment."

Dreamed He Shot the Chutes.

While asleep in a chair on the second floor porch in the rear of his home, Joseph Enders of 1912 Division street dreamed he was shooting the chutes. He did not awake until he landed at the foot of the stairs, a distance of 15 feet. At the City Dispensary, where his injuries were dressed, he was suffering from two scalp wounds.

Sleepwalker Gets a Fall.

While walking in his sleep at the livery stable of Fred Schnurr, 1014 Ohio avenue, where he is employed as a carriage washer, Charles Rafferty, 27 years old, fell through an open trap door from the second to the first floor, a distance of 15 feet. He was taken to the City Hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from a sprained foot.

POLICE TAKE ST. LOUISAN FROM BRIDE

J. Edward Pierce, Claiming to Be St. Louis Editor, Arrested as a Swindler.

QUICK OHIO COURTSHIP

Gave Preacher a Promise for a Wedding Fee and Worthless Check for Feast.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SALEM, O., July 24.—J. Edward Pierce, who alleges that he is a former sporting editor of a St. Louis morning paper, is in the Lisbon Jail, and his bride of a week, formerly Miss Hannah Forney of Leetonia, is at the home of her mother, Mrs. T. M. Forney, lamenting a blighted romance.

Pierce arrived in this city less than two weeks ago and on last Tuesday he and Miss Forney, who is one of Leetonia's prettiest and most popular young ladies, were married after a very brief acquaintance. The bridegroom made a decidedly favorable impression in the village and announced he would soon start a paper there. On the evening of the wedding, after the ceremony, he handed the officiating minister, Rev. A. D. Collins, a long envelope, which the minister supposed contained a fee. When he opened it the following morning it is said that a promise to call around in a day or two and pay the fee was found.

On Wednesday evening Pierce entertained a party of friends at dinner at the Columbian Hotel and on Saturday morning when he left the village he paid his bill by check on the Milford Center (Ohio) Bank. He and his bride were going to Atlantic City to spend a week. After their departure the proprietor of the hotel went to a Leetonia bank to cash his check and found it worthless. It was also found that Pierce had bought goods and contracted bills right and left in Leetonia, paying all with alleged bogus checks.

Officers were notified and Pierce and his bride were found in Salem at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Itcraft, the bride and relatives being in ignorance of Pierce's methods of paying bills.

Pierce was arrested, given a preliminary hearing, bound over for trial and now is in Jail at Lisbon.

Pierce admitted that he had no money in the Milford Center Bank and that he had found the check book.

CHILD AND ITS MOTHER BURNED

Two-year-old Beasty Rokockeck, while playing with matches, was seriously burned at the home of her parents, 900 Old Manchester road, at 11 a. m. Tuesday, and the child's mother, Mrs. Ignatius Rokockeck, was burned about the hands in assisting the baby. The child is under the care of Dr. E. J. Ernst, who said her condition was critical.

The baby was playing with a box of matches. When she ignited one the others caught fire. Her light cotton dress was ablaze in a twinkling. Before the flames could be beaten out the baby was burned all about the body.

MOTORMEN AT WAR TIED UP THE SUBURBAN

Rivalry of Two Men Causes Delay and Stopped Traffic for an Hour.

OTHER LINES INVOLVED

One Man Stopped His Car on a Switch So That Other Car Was Held.

POLICE ENDED DISPUTE

Blockade at Fourth and Elm Streets Due to Stubbornness of Employes.

Traffic on the Suburban system and on a few lines of the United Railways system was blocked about 11 o'clock Monday night for probably a half hour by differences between Motormen Sweeney and Williams of the Suburban system.

One guides an O'Fallon Park car; the other pilots a Meramec Highlands car. They usually reach Sarah street about the same time and reach the downtown terminus of the line, Fourth and Elm streets, also about the same time.

According to persons who claim to know, there has been a sort of race track rivalry between the two men and they usually jockeyed for position when they met. Williams trying to turn into the main track at Sarah street before Sweeney and Sweeney trying to start back from Fourth and Elm ahead of Williams and vice versa.

Raced for a Block.

They reached Broadway and Elm street almost together at 11 o'clock Monday night. There one of the motormen tried the trick that the chariot drivers do in the circus. He tried to get ahead on the turn. There is a switch running along Elm street from Broadway to Fourth street. Into this the rear car was shot and it dashed along past the other car, which was bowling gently along the main track.

According to bystanders the motorman of the car on the main track, seeing the rival motorman flash by in his car, turned the lever a few notches to the good and shot his car forward.

The result was that both were compelled to come to a sudden stop to avoid a collision at the point where the switch swerves back into the main track.

It seems that when they stopped, the nose of the car coming from the switch was just over the line of the main track, and that the prow of the other car was right there, too.

It was an even break, and each motorman, it appears, refused to "back" to permit the other to pass. While they were wrangling, other Suburban cars and United Railway cars that use these tracks came along and then they couldn't "back" very easily.

Passengers Were Delayed.

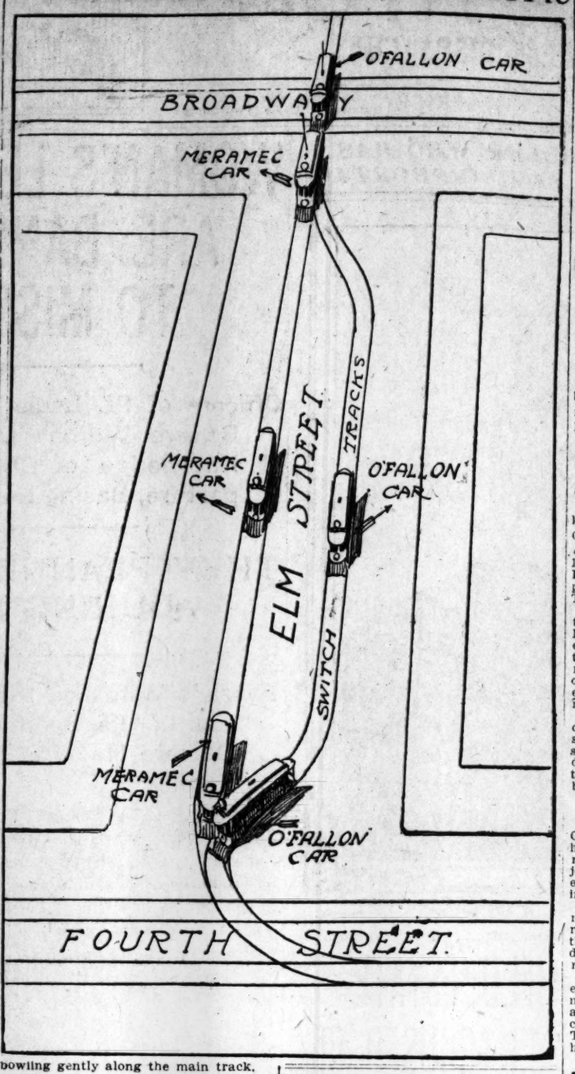

The result was that none of the cars passed on into the Fourth street tracks for quite a while, to the disgust of those anxious to get home and to the delight of a crowd in Faust's who seemed to enjoy the fun.

According to some of these spectators the delay continued for from a half hour to forty-five minutes, and was only terminated when the United Railways trouble crew arrived and the foreman, seeing no other solution to the difficulty, called a policeman, who compelled one of the motormen to permit the other to pass.

John Mahoney, general superintendent of the Suburban System, when asked about the incident Tuesday, said:

"There was some misunderstanding between the two motormen, but I have not seen them both yet and am not informed as to all the facts. From what one of them says I understand that the motorman on the switch pulled his car in so close to the main track that the man on the main track was unable to go ahead. It caused a delay of about seventeen minutes, I believe. We will investigate the matter fully."

ROBBERY IN STORM WAS ONLY PRANK

Fellow Campers Will Inform Nathan Ellman How He Lost $10 by Joke.

STOPPED ON DARK ROAD

Men Were Returning to Host's Home When Masked "Robber" Appeared.

A meeting of the Oxford Club will take place Tuesday evening and Nathan Ellman of 2805A Dayton street will be informed that the masked man who robbed him of $10 on a lonely road near Potosi, Mo., Friday night, played a prank on him. His money will be returned to him.

He thought all the time that he was a real robber's victim.

Ellman, Andrew Cicardi, a saloon keeper at Third and Carr streets; M. Christy of New Orleans, Isadore Cohn of 911 High street, Frank Winkeler of 1312 North Eleventh street and Otto Pabst of 4624 Evans avenue made up a party of campers last week near Potosi. They stayed with "Squire" Hudson.

The men had been near Behrman and the party divided in a heavy storm, Ellman, a farmer boy, and several others going in one wagon around a mountain to reach Hudson's home and the rest of the company traveling in another wagon over the big hill. Winkeler rode a horse in the rear of Ellman's vehicle.

Just as Ellman's party reached a secluded portion of the dark road, several shots were fired and a masked man seized the reins of the horses. He ordered the occupants of the wagon to throw up their hands and submit to being robbed, and they complied.

Made to Give Up $10.

Ellmamn was compelled to forfeit $10. Cicardi gave up a $40 watch and Cohn handed over $30. The highwayman then made off and the party resumed its journey. Winkeler's horse was frightened and ran away with him, he escaping the robber.

That same night, after they had reached Hudson's home, Cohn's $30 was returned to him and he was let into the secret, but Ellman was kept in the dark and still thought it was a real robbery Tuesday morning.

The joke robbery is said to have been evolved and executed by Christy. The men, who were ignorant of the scheme, are members of the Oxford Club, a social organization, and at the meeting Tuesday evening Ellman will be given his lost funds.

PURDY OUSTED, IS STILL CHIEF

East Side Police Official Sticks to His Job and Is Obeyed.

George O. Purdy, notwithstanding the order of ouster issued Monday afternoon by the City Council, continues to exercise the functions of the East St. Louis Chief of Polic and his every direction is being obeyed as formerly by his subordinates.

He says he will not step down and out until Mayor Cook tells him to, and the Mayor says he will not tell Purdy to relinquish his job. He says Purdy is legally and officially Chief of Police and will remain in that office.

The Chief insists that no order was served on him Monday evening, that no request for him to turn over the books and records to Lieut. Michael Doyle was handed him and that he will continue to direct the Police Department of the city to the best of his ability until he is actually ousted by some legal proceeding.

The Council met Monday in special session and declared the office of City Marshal and Superintendent of Police vacant, both of which positions are held by Purdy. The body issued an order directing the chief to turn over all the records of his office to Lieut. Doyle and announced that until the Mayor named somebody satisfactory to the Council Lieut. Doyle would act as the head of the constabulary.

Chief Purdy reported at the usual hour Tuesday for duty and a number of his friends were at the station awaiting him when he arrived. They said they had expected trouble and offered to circulate petitions reciting Purdy's qualifications and asking his retention, guaranteeing that two-thirds of the citizens of the East Side would sign them. This the Chief refused to permit.

Fight for Leadership.

The trouble is said to have originated over the struggle of Purdy and Frank B. Bowman a wealthy real estate man, for the Democratic leadership, Bowman finally swinging his allegiance and influence to the Citizens' Party, which is antagonistic to Mayor Cook.

The Mayor is a friend of Purdy and his refusal to oust the chief and persistence in reappointing him against the Council's determination to throw out the policeman resulted in the action of Monday.

The Citizens' Party Aldermen are in the majority and the order was framed by a vote of 9 to 3. It states that Mayor Cook's appointment of Purdy is illegal in that it has never been confirmed by the Council and therefore the office of Chief of Police is vacant.

The City Marshal is ex-officio Chief of Police, the official title of the head of the department being superintendent of police, and the Council decided that office no longer exists. The City Marshal's salary has always been only $100 a year, though the police chief has received $1,800. The City Marshal, however, is permitted to collect fees, such as 60 cents for every warrant served by the police force which he commands.

The order also stated that neither the Mayor nor the City Council should issue vouchers for Purdy's pay and instructed the City Treasurer no more to recognize any such vouchers should they be presented for payment.

The Mayor contends that he is acting within his rights and is conforming to the law, which gives him the authority to appoint a Police Chief. The Council holds that the Mayor is in error in that Purdy's term expired last May and because his appointment has not been confirmed by the Council his presence in the office is illegal and improper.

The plan was once advanced to place the police force on the metropolitan basis, a committee of five of the Council to be appointed by the Mayor to act as a Board of Commissioners to hear trials and pass on all questions relating to the police. But this idea was never carried into effect.

BRYAN'S RIDER WAS REMODELED

Peace Convention Adopts His Treaty Amendment After Some Changes.

LONDON, July 24.—Wm. J. Bryan's proposed rider to the model arbitration treaty was discussed at a session of the International Council of the Interparliamentary Union this morning and resulted in its being recast, as follows:

"If a disagreement should arise which is not included in those to be submitted to arbitration, the contracting parties shall not resort to any act of hostility before they separately or jointly invite, as the case may necessitate, the formation of an international commission of inquiry or mediation of one or more friendly powers, this requisition to take place, if necessary, in accordance with article 8 of the Hague Convention, providing for a peaceful settlement of itnernational conflicts."

On the resumption of the sessions of the conference of the Interparliamentary Union today the above was unanimously adopted after speeches by former Austrian Minister of Commerce Von Plener and Mr. Bryan, warmly supporting the amended rider.

Father of Seven Asks Divorce.

George W. King, engineer on a Mississippi River steamer, filed suit for divorce from Mary A. King in the Circuit Court Tuesday and asked the court to give him the custody of their seven minor children, four girls and three boys. They were married Jan. 14, 1885, and separated April 23, 1901. Indignities are charged in the petition.

DENIES HE FIXED VOTES IN LODGE

Secretary Recites Charges Against Himself in Appeal to Court.

Carlton G. Haizlip obtained an order from Judge McDonald Tuesday directing Louis B. Hehl, president, and several directors of the Western Funeral Benefit Association of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics to appear in court next Monday and show cause why they should not be restrained from ousting Haizlip from the secretaryship of the organization.

Haizlip, in his petition, says he was suspended July 20, and has since been prevented from having access to his office or the papers therein. He says his suspension followed charges filed in the name of C. E. Walters, one of the directors. He says, however, that was only a part of a plan to remove him, in which President Hehl and Directors C. H. Miller, F. N. Thomas, F. W. Mueller and W. C. Seidmeyer were interested. They elected C. H. Miller secretary in his place.

In his petition Haizlip incorporates the charges, which he declares untrue, made against him by Walters. Among them is that he turned over to Julius C. Hainer, treasurer, June 5, $3500, after being ordered to pay him no more money. Another charge is that he opened the mail of President Hehl. The charge on which most stress seems to be laid is that Haizlip manipulated the vote at an election last January on a proposition to increase the per capita rate. It was alleged, he says, that he so manipulated it as to show the proposition carried when it had been lost. The charge also was that Haizlip made the returns show more votes from his council, Acme, than there are members.

He was a noncommissioned officer in Battery M, First Illinois, during the Civil War.

Mrs. Dolton was unable to attend the funeral, being with a sick daughter, Mrs. G. Johnson of Los Angeles.

Cossacks Mutiny.

At two meetings last night, one near Narva gate and the other in the Viborgski district, across the Neva, the Cossacks sent to disperse the people refused openly to do so and fraternized with the workmen. This is partially confirmative of the revolutionists' boast that the troops will not fire again on the people.

The most serious immediate problem confronting the Government is what to do with the members of the outlawed Parliament. Isolated arrests of members have occurred in various parts of the country and it is difficult to see how the Government logically can avoid arresting all who participated in the Viborg meeting.

TWO MEMBERS OF THE DUMA ARRESTED.

VIBORG, Finland, July 24.—During the night the members of the outlawed Russian Parliament received word that two of their number had been arrested —Father Koyarkoff, at Voronezh, and a Cossack deputy, M. Kharlamoff, at Rostov-On-the-Don.

Both Father Koyarkoff and M. Kharlamoff distinguished themselves by preaching revolution from the rostrum of Parliament.

CZAR'S MOTHER BUYS VILLA FOR A REFUGE.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1906, by the Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

LONDON, July 24.—The Berlin correspondent of the Daily Mail learns that the Czar's mother recently purchased a large villa at Hvidore, near Klampenberg, Denmark, which, it is said, is now being fitted up for occupancy by the Russian imperial family, in case the Czar finds it desirable to take flight. The villa lies close to the sea on the east coast of Denmark. A private tunnel is now being built under the public highway, through which access to the villa direct from water will be possible without public view.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Morning Leader says:

"The Duma members believe the Czar was practically forced to sign the proclamation of dissolution, he having scores of times recently declined to take such a course. His Majesty is said to be in a state of extreme nervous excitement."

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Standard writes:

"There was a touching scene at the close of the Duma in Viborg, members kissing and embracing each other at parting."

WASHINGTON GETS LONG MESSAGE FROM RUSSIA.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The Acting Secretary of State has received a long cable dispatch from Ambassador Meyer at St. Petersburg concerning the situation there. The officials of the department decline to discuss the contents of the dispatch further than to say that everything was perfectly quiet in St. Petersburg Sunday. No advices have been received regarding the situation Monday.

GILLASPY WANTS GREEK POLICEMAN

More Representatives of Other Nationalities Also Desired.

Acting Chief of Police Gillaspy said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Tuesday that he is thinking of recommending to the Police Board the appointment of men of various nationalities, particularly Italian, Greek, Polish and Bohemian, to the force to aid in solving crimes committed by persons of their nationalities.

"The murder of Carlo Rondaza Saturday illustrates the need of more Italians on the force," said the Chief. "Or, to put it another way, it illustrates what an advantage the police would now have in clearing up the murder if it could have detailed a policeman capable of understanding Sicilians on the case as soon as it was reported.

"We did hunt up Policeman Tomasso, who was walking another beat, but by the time Tomasso was found and sent out, Rondaza was in the hospital and under the influence of opiates and no statement could be had from him.

"I am going to keep Tomasso as close as I can to the Italian colony beat. Then, I have ordered Sergt. Androveno down into the Fourth District for the same reason. He has been in the Fifth District, where there are no Italians. He is of no particular advantage there, while he 's of especial advantage in the district where swarms of Italians live.

"I am also going to order Sergt. Trojanowski into the Fourth District and place him out in the west end of it, where the Polish colony is located. He is their fellow-countryman and understands them, while he has no such advantage in the Fifth.

"We have other Polish patrolmen on the force, but we have no Russians or Greeks. A policeman who can act as a Greek interpreter would be a valuable man for the department. Offenses are frequently committed in the Greek colony, and it is exceedingly difficult for a policeman who speaks only English or German to get a line on what has happened."

COMPOSES POETRY IN DYING HOURS

Porter H. Abrams Also Recites His Favorite Verses as Life Ebbs Away.

BLIND FOR MANY YEARS

Prayer Kirkwood Man Composed Before Death Beautiful Creation.

Porter Harvey Abrams, who died Monday at his home in Kirkwood and whose funeral is to take place Wednesday afternoon, composed poetry during his last hours on earth. As his life was ebbing away, his thoughts took the form of rhythmic expression, of which he had been most fond. He recalled also and recited poems which he had composed before he became ill and poems of others which were his favorites.

Afflicted with blindness a number of years, he had beguiled the hours by composing poetry and had become so in the habit of framing his thoughts into poetry that when the darkness of death began to steal over him his last thoughts likewise took that form.

He also gave poetic expression to a prayer shortly before he died, which those who listened to it say was most beautiful.

Educated in University.

Mr. Abrams was born in Albany, N. Y., June 13, 1831. He was educated at Ohio University and came to St. Louis in 1852. Except for three years spent abroad, he lived in St. Louis or the suburbs ever since. Since 1870 he had lived at Kirkwood. In that year he took charge of the silk department of the Scruggs, Vandervort & Barney Dry Goods Co., and remained with that company until six years ago, when his failing eyesight compelled his withdrawal.

He was married in 1862 to Miss Mary Tuttle, daughter of E. G. Tuttle. Besides his wife, he leaves four children, George R. Abrams, Herbert R. Abrams, Addie T. Abrams and Mrs. Henry T. Ewing of Philadelphia.

The funeral will be conducted by Rev. R. N. Timble of the Wetzel Memorial Baptist Church. Interment will be in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

DOG BITES TWO IN ONE COMMUNITY

Two South Side Boys Attacked Within Three Minutes of Each Other.

ONE PLAYING ON STEPS

Mother of Archie Blume Says Stray Animals Should Be Driven Away.

Mrs. Charles E. Blume, mother of one of the two boys bitten by a dog said Tuesday that something should be done to rid the neighborhood of the stray dogs. She lives at 2846 Nebraska avenue. Her son, Archie Blume, 6 years old, and Oscar Schwente 3 years old, of 2857 Magnolia avenue, were bitten by dogs within three minutes of each other Monday evening.

Many children are constantly playing on the streets in that neighborhood. Their mothers believe the hundreds of stray dogs are a menace to the children.

Archie Blume bent over his play automobile, trying to lift it up the front steps at his home Monday evening, when a black and white dog ran up and bit him on the left knee. The boy cried and ran in to his mother. Dr. H. Rothstein cauterized the wound. He says there is no danger.

Archie's 10-year-old sister was playing not far from home three minutes later when she found Oscar Schwente crying on the street. He had been bitten on the right arm by a dog, presumably the one which attacked Archie.

The girl helped the boy to his home. Oscar had been playing out on the sidewalk with his own little dog, "Pet." There are three red marks on Oscar's arm, where the other dog's teeth sank. Mrs. Schwent did not have the wound cauterized after the doctor, who cauterized little Archie's wound, said he did not think the dog could have been mad. both boys were kept in bed Tuesday.

Charles Weller of 3226 Wyoming street was bitten on the right index finger by a foxhound at Wyoming street and Louisiana avenue at noon Tuesday.

TORTURED IN VAIN TO WRING A CONFESSION

Negro Boy Maintains Innocence Despite His Unspeakable Suffering.

WHOLE FAMILY KILLED

Convinced of His Guilt, Texas Officers Treated Suspect With Barbarity.

PROBABLY NOT GUILTY

The Print of a Hand Indicates That the Boy Was Telling the Truth.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 24.—Tortures as diabolical as religious fanatics ever visited on a heretic having failed to make Monk Gibson, a negro boy, confess the slaughter of Mrs. J. F. Conditt and her four children last September, the crime has been now laid upon Felix Powell, another and older negro. Only Gibson's survival of the tortures inflicted upon him led to the discovery of what the authorities believe is positive evidence of the other negro's guilt.

Monk Gibson worked for Conditt and when the family was murdered he rushed breathlessly to the house of a white neighbor and said he had seen a negro chasing Mrs. Conditt about the yard. When neighbors reached the house they found the entire family had been murdered. Blood on Gibson's clothes at once cast suspicion on him, but it was demonstrated that he could not have committed the assaults, although it was suspected that he knew who the murderer was.

Finally Gibson said the murderers, whom he said he did not know, had dragged him into the house, compelled him to witness the murders and after wiping blood upon his clothing, had set him free.

The boy was tortured. Stripped and bound to the floor the lash fell across his back until the flesh was cut and he fainted, but he remained steadfast in his last statement. He was allowed to recover and was fed well. Again he was "exhausted." Men wearing large Texas spurs jumped upon his prostrate and bleeding body. He screamed in pain and begged for mercy. He said he had told all he knew. He was tortured again. This time a noose was prepared and he was strung up until his eyes bulged from their sockets so horribly that even the hardened officers of Texas justice turned away. The boy's tongue protruded from between his swollen lips and he lost consciousness, and when he recovered, still steadfast, he lay near death for weeks.

Gov. Lanham then ordered Texas rangers, under Capt. McDonald, to save the boy from further torture. Officers and guards had started with the boy across country to escape lynching and the boy escaped. He was retaken by a squad of rangers and Capt. McDonald reached the conclusion that the boy was innocent. The rangers were chased by a mob, but managed to land their prisoner in Jail, where he was strung up by the thumbs. At night his agonized screams drove his mother, who was taken to the same Jail, violently insane.

Monk Gibson was indicted on the charge of murder and his trial was transferred to San Antonio. The jury could not agree, and Gibson is still in Jail and still says he does not know who were the murderers of the Conditt family. His neck was saved by the fact that the bloody imprint of a hand on a board on the Conditt farmhouse did not correspond to the imprint of his hand.

Capt. McDonald, a veteran Texas ranger, was sent by Gov. Lanham to investigate the murder. The minute he set eyes on Felix Powell and his crooked little finger, misshapen by a felon, McDonald asked for his arrest.

The plans were laid to take an impression of Powell's hand, and it was through an adroit arrangement that this imprint was secured. Camphor-smoked paper was spread on a table at the window and then Capt. McDonald asked: "Who is that coon, Felix?" pointing out the window. It was necessary for the prisoner to lean over the table to see in the direction indicated, and in doing this his hand was so placed as to secure the desired imprint. It corresponded exactly with the bloody imprint on the Conditt house.

It is reported that the Kinsella Shoe Co., at 822 Olive street, has sold out to W. F. Armstrong and E. H. Powers. Mr. Powers is perhaps the best-known and highly regarded retail shoe salesman in St. Louis, having been associated for the past 25 years wth two or three leading retail dealers of high-grade shoes. The new company will increase their capital stock to $25,000. Mr. W. F. Anderson has been connected with the Brown Shoe Co. for 16 years and represented them in the State of Arkansas, where he has owned a number of retail stores and now owns a controlling interest in the Armstrong-Benton Shoe Co. at Little Rock. The new company will handle White House shoes for men and for women, Buster Brown Blue Ribbon shoes for boys and girls, and other high-grade lines. The clearing sale is now going on at 822 Olive street to reduce the present stock and make room for the above-mentioned goods. Mr. E. H. Powers will be vice-president and manager of the new company.

Carleton Dines Churchmen.

Rev. Dr. William F. McMurry, who will preach his farewell sermon at Centenary M. E. Church, South, Sunday, before his departure for Louisville, was the guest of honor at an informal reception given by Murray Carleton to the church stewards at Mr. Carleton's home, Euclid avenue and Parkview place, Monday evening. Dr. McMurry, who has been elected secretary of the Board of Church Extension, with headquarters in Louisville, will leave with his family Monday. Rev. Dr. S. H. Wainwright, who will succeed Dr. McMurry temporarily, was also a guest at the reception. Nearly every one of the 45 stewards of the church was present.

When You Were a Girl

Did the children in your neighborhood play at keeping store, selling needlework, embroidery, dolls' clothes, lemonade, ice cream, candy, cakes and pies? All the children in St. Louis will observe Lemonade Day—that is next Saturday—by keeping store, and all of their profits will be added to the Post-Dispatch Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund. The child who earns the largest sum for the Fund will receive a gold watch from the Post-Dispatch.

LUNDBECK OUSTED; RIVER MEN AMAZED

Federal Inspector Dismissed After Hearing Complaints From Boat Owners.

Capt. William G. Lundbeck of the Steamboat Inspection Department, has been dismissed from the service of the United States Government, according to a notice received at the St. Louis office. The action follows an investigation into complaints against the inspectors' office by the management of the excursion steamer, Corwin H. Spencer, burned last fall.

Capt. Lundbeck was called to Washington after H. K. Smith of the Department of Corporations and Lawrence O. Murray, assistant secretary of Commerce and Labor, had conducted an inquiry at St. Louis. The exact nature of the charges has never been made public.

The dismissal of Capt. Lundbeck leaves the inspectors' office shorthanded, Capt. Archie Gordon, inspector of hulls, being the only official now in the steamboat service of the Government at St. Louis. Capt. R. J. Whitledge, supervising inspector, resigned April 14, and no appointment has been made to fill the vacancy. No successor of Capt. Lundbeck has been made.

The outgoing official is one of the best-known steamboat men in this part of the country, and is an expert mechanical engineer. He assisted in installing the machinery in the torpedo boat Ericsson, and remained with that vessel until it had been taken from Dubuque, Io., where it was built, to Long Island Sound. The news of his dismissal was a great surprise to river men.

One Thing Follows Another.

From the Philadelphia Press.

"Yes," said Subbubs, "the roads are pretty muddy out Swamphurst way now."

"Oh, well," replied Citiman, "you'll forget all that when the warm pleasant days of summer come along and—"

"That's so," said Subbubs, "we'll have the mosquitoes to think of then."

GIRL MARRIED, NOT MURDERED

Mystery of Disappearance of Massachusetts Miss Explained.

BELCHERTON, Mass., July 24.—Winzola Mabel Goodell, who disappeared on the afternoon of July 6 and was supposed to have been drowned or murdered by tramps, is alive and well. On the day of her disappearance she married Harry T. Moore of Waterbury, Conn.

The finding of a piece of ribbon supposed to have been worn by Miss Goodell gave rise to the theory of foul play. Since Thursday the lake has been dragged again and again and hundreds of pounds of dynamite exploded to dislodge the body. Yesterday the woods of Belchertown were searched by a party of nearly 100 citizens.

Miss Goodell's mother received last night a letter from her daughter. While withholding the contents of the letter, Mrs. Goodell admitted to the State detectives that her daughter had eloped.

Miss Goodell is 19 years old and the recognized belle of Belchertown. It was generally supposed that she was to become the bride of Prof. Frank Bartlett of the Hampton (Va.) Institute. A week before her disappearance she accompanied Prof. Bartlett to Amhurst and parted with him affectionately.

In an interview in Hampton yesterday Prof. Bartlett was quoted as saying that there could be no reasonable doubt that Miss Goodell had been murdered by tramps which infest Belchertown in the summer.

STORK DISAPPOINTS QUEEN WILHELMINA

Result of Sudden Illness Casts Gloom Over All Holland—Expectations of an Heir to the Throne Will Not Be Realized, It Is Announced.

THE HAGUE, July 24.—Queen Wilhelmina was taken ill last night.

The result has cast gloom throughout Holland. It was announced today that the expectation of an heir to the throne at this time will not be realized.

BRIDEGROOM IS "EGGED" BY WOMEN

Divorced Wife's Friends Drive Man From Town in Which He Got Decree.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BLACKFOOT, Idaho, July 24.—Earl Smith, editor of the Southern Idaho Mail justice of the peace and former manager of the Smith & Maxwell Mercantile Co. of this city, was "rotten-egged" at his home by an indignant mob of women and boys last night. The windows of the house were broken, and the whole place, both inside and out, was bespattered with overripe hen fruit. Smith, while not seriously injured, was literally covered by the flying missiles.

About two months ago Smith instituted divorce proceedings against his wife, and so shameless were the charges upon which he rounded his suit that his wife, not desiring to air the proceedings, made no appearance. Shortly after the decree Smith left town and yesterday returned with a new bride. Much indignation was felt among the women on account of the treatment Smith had given his former wife, it being alleged that besides leaving her with a family of children he had taken $300 of hers just before commencing the divorce proceedings. Consequently about a hundred women, including many prominent in society and church work, surrounded the home of the editor and laid siege with rotten eggs.

Smith has been given 24 hours in which to leave town or be treated to a coat of tar and feathers.

Mother of Five Arrested.

Mrs. Addie Roach, mother of five small children, was arrested and charged with drunkenness. A policeman said she was in front of her home at 1406 Papin street, scarcely able to walk. The children have been taken in charge by the probation officer, and will be given homes.

DAVE FINDS BRIDGE ON ATLANTIC OCEAN BUT IT ISN'T FREE

"Sam" and "Bud" Butt In and Relations Are Strained Until Afternoon, When the Boys, With "Bud" as Leader, Catch a Polar Bear.

Wireless Telegram to the Post-Dispatch, by Hoch, der Captain.

ABOARD THE KAISER WILHELM, still farther out on the Atlantic, July 24.—Well, we just can't stop 'em. "Dave" and those other St. Louis boys are getting friskier and friskier every day and the wireless is not strong enough to carry accounts of all of their frolics.

Today they played bridge. Not the kind the society ladies in St. Louis play and say they are not gambling. No, no, no. Something entirely different. They played real, live bridge.

Of course, "Bud" was a ringleader in the fun. You know on all the ships there is a bridge that the captain uses. If you don't know about it, maybe you read about it during the bombardment of Santiago. Every correspondent said that every brave ship's commander stood on the bridge—no, not at midnight—but while the enemy's shells shrieked past his patriotic ears.

Well, "Bud" and "Dave" saw me on the bridge, and thought it would be nice if they could get up there, too.

"Dare you to go up there, 'Dave,'" Bud remarked, laughingly.

"Well, there's no place too high for me to aspire, to 'Bud,'" "Dave" replied, "You know that. But I don't know whether even ex-cabinet officers and ex-presidents of universal expositions are allowed up there."

"Sam" Butts In.

"Seems to be the same question," put in "Sam," who always butts in on technical subjects, "that you recently had in St. Louis—free bridge question."

"I don't think the bridge here is free," "Bud" commented, "but they might let you up there, 'Dave,' on the theory that you're a bridge expert."

I could hear this but I couldn't see anything funny in it. But "Sam" laughed like everything and somebody told me he's president of a road that runs over the Eads Bridge and sometimes over another bridge that "Dave" helped to build.

"Dave" seemed to get tired of playing bridge then and suggested some new game. I told them "I spy" was a good game and, by the bounding billows, if they didn't play it. "Bud" was it and he chased the other St. Louis boys all over the ship, nearly bumping into other boys and girls and knocking down a lot of the thing-a-madogers and pizazzas lying around loose on the decks.

But "Bud" knew his men. He caught "Sam" in the engine room and "Breck" in the cashier's office behind the safe and "Dave" in the apartments of the ship's photographer.

I'd like to hear the stories these St. Louis boys are going to tell Charlie Huttig when they meet him in Berlin about the polar bear we met today.

"Bud" Catches the Bear.

It's the funniest thing yet. We were running along in the Gulf stream when suddenly a terrific wind came along and shoved us out of our path into some ice-cold water. "Breck" was sitting on one of those thing-a-majigs—the real name is too technical for landsmen to understand—up near the bow, when he saw this polar bear sailing right at us on a big cake of ice. "Breck" is not such a warm proposition that a little thing like a polar bear or a cake of ice would bother him, so he just called the other boys and before any of us Kaiser Wilhelmites realized it, they had slipped off in a small boat headed for the bear.

I got back on my bridge and watched them. The bear seemed to suspect them from the start. As soon as "Dave" and "Bud" and "Breck" and "Sam" landed on the icy island, the bear started to run. He seemed to be able to elude them all right, but he slipped on a cake of soap that "Bud" had artfully placed in his path, and fell into the sea. Just at that moment "Bud" grabbed him by the tail, threw him into his boat and the boys brought him back captive to the Kaiser Wilhelm. Oh, it was great. I'm bearly able to wire this I'm laughing so hard about it.

The boys were feeling blue this morning. Noon came and not a telegram from a crowned head or a millionaire. But the gloom lifted when this message arrived:

"Dear Dave: Have just left Lunnon. Kindly have the Kaiser Wilhelm stopped in mid-ocean as we wish to shake hands with you St. Louis boys on our way across the pond. J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller."

Will send you message about the meeting later.

DAVE SEEKS TO FIND OUT WHETHER THE BRIDGE ON THE KAISER WILHELM IS A FREE ONE OR NOT

BRYAN REGRETS DUMA IS OUT

Thinks Czar Should Have Treated With Body and Avoided Trouble.

LONDON, July 24.—William J. Bryan says he is sorry to see the Duma dissolved, and declared that Premier Campbell-Bannerman had happily expressed the situation when he paraphrased the old saying: "The Duma is dead, long live the Duma," meaning that whatever may happen to the personnel of the Duma, as an institution it still lives. Mr. Bryan added:

"I am satisfied there will be no backward steps, whatever the Czar may attempt to do. The recognition of the right of the people to self-government cannot be undone. I believe the Czar made a great mistake in ordering the dissolution. From my observation the members of the Duma are men with purposes and possessing ample qualification to deal with the necessities of their country. The Czar should have treated with the Duma."

Mr. Bryan insists that the visit of Col. M. C. Wetmore of St. Louis was not for the purpose of inducing him to give up the idea of returning to the United States by way of New York. He said he would stick to his original itinerary. Mr. Wetmore will return with him.

When You Were a Girl

Did the children in your neighborhood play at keeping store, selling needlework, embroidery, dolls' clothes, lemonade, ice cream, candy, cakes and pies? All the children in St. Louis will observe Lemonade Day—that is next Saturday—by keeping store, and all of their profits will be added to the Post-Dispatch Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund. The child who earns the largest sum for the Fund will receive a gold watch from the Post-Dispatch.

THINK GIRL LIES TO SAVE LOVER

Although She Confesses Killing Sweetheart, It May Be Rival Whom She Loves.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 24.—Evidence presented on an application for a writ of habeas corpus for Emma Stephany, who confessed having killed her former sweetheart, James Frizzell, convinced detectives and lawyers more than ever that her confession is false. In fact, it is learned that she has privately confessed that another man, a rival of Frizzell for her hand, shot him in a jealous rage. "But I must shield him or he will not marry me," she is reported to have said.

The girl has told so many different stories that it would be next to impossible to convict on her evidence. The evidence of Chief of Police Davies utterly destroyed the girl's story that she shot Frizzell and threw the revolver over a fence nearby. The revolver could not be found. Chief Davies intercepted a letter from the girl to her mother, asking her to get a revolver and give it to the officers and tell them that was the weapon with which Emma killed Frizzell.

The girl was remanded to prison.

FALLS DEAD AT FEET OF YOUNG BRIDE

Ironton (Va.) Business Man Shot Through Heart in Volley From Boat.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 24.—As the result of the firing of a volley of bullets from the excursion steamer Bonanza into a crowd of several hundred persons collected at the wharf at Ironton, O., as the boat passed, seven of the crew were arrested today charged with the murder of Carl Mayerheim, a young business man of Ironton.

The excursion steamer left here yesterday morning with a crowd for Cincinnati, and when Ironton was reached a man was put off the boat by the boat officers. Then several boys began to throw stones at the boat, which was answered with hundreds of shots.

Instead of aiming their pistols at the offenders, who were at the foot of a steep grade at the wharf, the men aboard the steamer fired into a crowd of several hundred persons at the top of the hill, who had gathered to watch the boat go by. Mayerheim, who had been married about two weeks, was shot through the heart and fell dead at his young bride's feet, while a score of others are thought to be mortally injured.

SOCIETY WILL BALLOON WITH DE LA VAULX

Noted Aeronaut Coming to America to Entertain Ladies Down at Lenox, Mass.

LENOX, Mass., July 24.—Count Henri de la Vaulx, the French ballonist, is coming to Lenox to make balloon ascensions with society women of the Berkshire colony.

The Aero Club of America has established a station in Pittsfield, from where the Count made the ascensions last spring, and now, at the solicitation of society women, he is to return to make a number of ascents with prominent society leaders. The station of the Aero Club is but six miles from Lenox, and all of the summer colony will go to Pittsfield for the ascensions.

In Paris, Belmont K. Tiffany, Mrs. Courtlandt F. Bishop, Mrs. Lorillard Donalds, Mrs. Newbold Edgars, Mrs. William Hillis and Mrs. Oakley Rhinelander lately made ascents with the Count in his balloon, Aero Club No. 333, which he will bring to America.

The car of this balloon was especially designed for women passengers, and has folding seats and pockets for opera glasses, smelling salts and other paraphernalia of balloonists of the feminine sex. The Count will arrive about Oct. 1 and will be entertained by his friends in Lenox. It is not the intention of the Count to make long distance voyages, but of sufficient length to entertain the society women for an afternoon. Automobiles will follow the balloonists.

RABIES AFTER A LAPSE OF YEARS

Kansas City Youth Develops What Is Called Hydrophobia After Pasteur Treatment.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 24.—Lying seriously ill at the University Hospital, F. D. Farr, 21 years old, has become the subject of a controversy and much discussion among physicians. He is supposed to be suffering from an attack of hydrophobia as a result of being bitten by a dog five years ago.

Sunday evening Farr and William Hankin were returning from Electric Park. When they reached Hankin's home, Farr remarked that he was feeling very sick. Hankin started to take him home on a car. As they walked down the street Farr suddenly fell on the pavement in a spasm. He snapped at all who came near him, frothed at the mouth and refused to take water when it was offered him. The sight of the water started him to barking and produced spasms.

In November, 1901, Farr was bitten by a dog, and the family, fearing that hydrophobia would result, sent him to the Pasteur Institute in New York City. He was treated there for some time and returned as cured, having suffered no ill effects at that time.

HYDROPHOBIA FROM THE BITE OF A CAT.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 24.—Seth Day, a farmer, living southwest of Topeka, was bitten by a cat 16 years ago and he is now raving in a padded cell in the Shawnee County Jail. Every symptom points to hydrophobia.

A few days after being bitten he was suffering from hydrophobia. He was taken to Kansas City, where he had a madstone applied and the treatment relieved him. The attending physician told him that the attack might return at any time.

Last Friday was an exceedingly hot day, and while working in a hay field Day was suddenly stricken. He dropped his pitchfork and started running to a small creek near a field. The hands working with him followed and found him in the water, raving and throwing water about him. He kept this up until completely exhausted, when his sons took him home. He was brought to Topeka today and locked in a cell.

The Curling Iron plays havoc with many a woman's hair. The heat causes the hair to become brittle, split or fall out; the iron burns out the pigment and causes the hair to turn gray.

Hay's Hair Health will prevent all this. It stops the falling out and positively restores gray hair to its former beauty, thickness and color. It is not a dye, will not stain skin or clothing, is not greasy. Its use cannot be detected. Philo Hay Co., Newark, N. J.

Grand Leader's Removal Sale

IT'S OUR NEXT MOVE, but we do not intend to move any merchandise to our new store. That's why we have inaugurated such a gigantic Removal Sale—that's why we are sacrificing everything in the store. You had better move lively if you want to derive the full benefits this sale affords. We have dug quite deep into many of the reserve stocks, and soon the assortments will begin to thin down. Look ahead a little—provide for the future, as you may never again have an equal saving opportunity.

Our statement that this is "the greatest mercantile event in St. Louis' history," is rather mild when you come to consider the true conditions. Bear in mind that every line of goods in the house is offered at a big discount, the discount being deducted from the regular prices at time of purchase, enabling you to see exactly what you save. And we furthermore guarantee our regular prices to be absolutely the lowest. Some of the discounts are mentioned below.

GETTING READY FOR LEMONADE DAY, CHILDREN?

A Gold Watch Awaits the Child Who Earns the Largest Sum for the Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund Next Saturday.

If you intend to have a stand and sell things for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund next Saturday, come to the Post-Dispatch office and ask one of the young ladies at the counter to give you a sign to tack on your stand.

There will be thousands of lemonade stands in St. Louis next Saturday. Many children will try to secure the gold watch offered by the Post-Dispatch to the girl or boy who earns the largest sum of money for the Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund.

Signs for the stands may be obtained in the office of the Post-Dispatch, 210-212 North Broadway.

Following are some suggestions for the ambitious young merchants who are going to sell things. They need not confine themselves to lemonade, but should sell anything that will fetch money. Good lemons sell for 20 cents a dozen, and they may be gotten for less from boys on the streets. A box of wafers may be bought for a dime, serve four of them with lemonade, charging a penny apiece. Flowers, such as carnations and sweet peas selling at present for 15 and 20 cents a dozen, will make a pretty decoration for the stands and will sell for a nickel a small bunch of sweet peas and carnations two for a nickel. Flowers from the back door yard may be put in use.

Scraps for quilts cut in squares sell for three or four for a penny.

Old magazines may be found salable.

Fancy ribbons and small china dolls are easy to sell.

A good suggestion for lemonade and orangeade comes from J. L. King at the head of the Oaks' soda fountain:

One gallon water
Half pound sugar
Squeeze 10 lemons
Slice two oranges and one lemon.

Here is his recipe for orangeade:

One gallon water
8 oranges, 2 lemons
Slice two oranges
A pound and a half sugar.

Plows' lemonade is made as follows:

For five quarts—
One dozen lemons,
Two and one-half pounds sugar
One gallon water.

Ten cents worth of ice will keep four or five gallons of lemonade all day. Granulated sugar sells for 5 cents a pound.

Plows' popcorn is made as follows:

Six ears of corn, salted to taste.
One-half pound of butter, melted dripped on corn as same is sold.

Following is a good recipe for drop cakes to be baked hastily in muffin pans:

Two eggs,
Half cup sugar,
Quart flour,
Two teaspoons baking powder,
Two cups milk,
Half cup butter.

The Fund Is for These.

Tiny Marie Sengrun laughs the infectious laugh of a happy, healthy baby. As she lay upon her crib in her home, 1739 North Eleventh street, she tried to thrust both tiny fists into her her mouth. And when she found she couldn't do it she just laughed and laughed. She didn't seem disappointed a bit.

You should see this little free-milk cherub. She is as cute as can be. She can't talk yet, but when she does she can be counted on for the witty things that come from the mouths of babes. She has the mirthful, playful eye.

There has been a complete transformation in this child in the last few weeks. She was sick, yes, almost dying, on corner-grocery milk. Is it any wonder the child almost succumbed on that diet? Children, or even adults, don't thrive over well on poison. Formaldehyde used to "preserve" milk might be helpful to the undertaker in his embalming process.

This baby was thin and very ill—so ill, in fact, it was not expected to live. Then came the change of diet. The pure, sterilized and properly modified milk of the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission was given instead of the poisonous stuff that had been bought at the grocery under the delusion it was milk.

It's mother is happy now—happy when she looks at her chubby little one playing on the bed, with a good color and robust like other children. Yes, this mother believes pure milk furnished by the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission saved her baby's life. And it did.

When a small amount expended in this charity can save a life, why need it be necessary to make appeals for more money to save other children? Why should it be necessary to ask for contributions for ice to alleviate the suffering in the tenements? It should not be. The money should be given freely and quickly. Money is needed for the fund. Send it in. It will be acknowledged in the columns of the Post-Dispatch.

Children Earn Money.

Bertha Reiter and Mamie Lunz managed an entertainment which was given at 1322 Biddle street on Saturday. One hundred and fifty tickets were sold at 1 cent, each netting $1.50 for the Post-Dispatch Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund. Two prizes were awarded to children who sold the most tickets, a cup and saucer and a hair ribbon. Gertie Prywitz and Goldie Kolbrenner won the prizes. The entertainment included songs, recitations and dances by Bertha and Mamie and Gertie and Goldie, and by Ida, Pauline and Rosie Reiter, Bertha and Johanna Scheisinger, Sarah Kolbrenner, Alice McNulty, and Dora Zillman. The girls sang national songs and wore red, white and blue costumes. After the entertainment lemonade was served.

Lemonade Day Workers.

The undersigned have agreed to sell lemonade, etc., next Saturday and turn all the profit into the cashier of the Post-Dispatch for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund:

Elmer Horst, 1122 South Eleventh street; Bertha Reiter, 1320-22 Biddle street; Mamie Lunz, 1323 Carr street; Maysie Johnson, 3720 Penrose street; James Limberg, 914 North Thirteenth street; Lawrence Thornton, 3912 Shenandoah; James Webb, 2306 North Eighteenth street; Willie Millspaugh, 5081 Kensington avenue; George A. Schoenning, 1116 South Fourth street; Ruth Warner, 4208 Morgan street.

Lemonade Stand at Picnic.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I beg leave to advise you that a lemonade stand will be operated at our picnic to be given at Forest Park Highlands on Saturday, July 28, the proceeds of which will be contributed to the Post-Dispatch Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund. Very truly yours,

ST. LOUIS DEMOCRATIC CLUB.
Colin M. Selph, President.

In His Name.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Inclosed please find 50 cents for the Pure Milk Commission. It is a small amount, but perhaps it will help to save some baby's life, and it is given in His name. T.

Creditor: So you've come around at last to pay me what you owe me, have you?

Debtor: Not at all—just the contrary. You made a statement at the club last night that I owed you 600 marks. As a matter of fact, the accounts show I only owe you 560. I've come around to collect that balance of 40.

NEXT SATURDAY

THE CHILDREN OF ST. LOUIS will observe Lemonade Day. This is a new festival and is for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund, which upholds the hands of the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission and the King's Daughters—great agencies in the work of saving the babies of the poor from torture and death.

The bright, healthy, happy children of St. Louis will keep store, sell lemonade and ice cream and cakes and candies and watermelons to earn money for the Fund. All of their profits will go to swell the Fund.

There will be friendly competition between these little merchants to gain the largest sum for the Fund and to gain the prize which the Post-Dispatch offers to the child who earns the largest sum of money for the Fund. This prize is a gold watch, guaranteed by the maker to keep perfect time. Two styles of watches have been selected, one suitable for a girl and one suitable for a boy. Only one prize will be given and that to either the girl or boy who turns into the cashier of the Post-Dispatch—who is the treasurer of the Fund—the greatest sum of money earned by sales made on Lemonade Day.

Card signs for stands may be obtained by children who apply at the counter in the office of the Post-Dispatch, 210-212 North Broadway.

A LEMONADE DAY APPEAL

Say, mister, won't you buy a glass
Of lemonade from me?
You won't? Well don't get huffy, sir.
I've got a reason, see?
It ain't no fun to stand out here
And peddle out this stuff,
If when you ask a man to buy
You hear him answer rough.

I guess you don't know everything
About the reason why
I'm handing you this lemonade
And asking you to buy.

There's lots of babies in this town
That's surely going to die
Unless somebody helps to get
Their milk and ice supply.

The Post-Dispatch is helping them
And I am helping it;
Just buy a glass of lemonade
And help the cause a bit.
Say, mister, won't you buy a glass?
I think you surely will.
You'd rather save a baby's life
Than help the heat to kill.

STATE'S FLOWER CULTURE GROWING

Nursery Products in 1905 Sold for $629,577—Cass County Leads.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 24.—Missouri made rapid strides last year as a horticultural State, and if the gain continues for 1906, it will rank with the foremost.

According to the State Bureau of Labor Statistics, the nursery products of the State for 1905 alone sold for $629,577, a vast sum considering that the industry is but in its infancy.

The 1906 report of the State Labor Commissioner contains a chapter on cut flowers and other nursery products, considering only those which were actually sent to market. Trouble was experienced in obtaining accurate figures on cut flowers.

The following figures, compiled by Statistician Edmonston, give an idea of the surplus cut flowers and nursery products of Missouri and their value for 1905:

Nursery stock, 4,300,000 pounds; value, $473,003. Cut flowers, 135,718 pounds; value, $156,574.

In cut flowers Cass County led the other 113, having shipped out 110,000 pounds. St. Louis County is credited with 18,687 pounds, Jackson County with 18,537 and Buchanan County with 15,310.

In nursery stock Pike County took the lead with 1,711,088 pounds. Franklin County comes next with 556,349 pounds and St. Louis County third with 405,628. Hilly Jasper County is placed on the market in 1905 with 267,480 pounds.

DOG OPERATED ON FOR A CASE OF APPENDICITIS.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—Properly etherized and laid on an operating table just like a human being, "Flinky," a shaggy-coated terrier and mascot of the United States torpedo boat Hopkins, was operated on for appendicitis successfully, in a dog hospital on Diamond street, below Tenth, yesterday.

So far as is known this is the first case of a dog being operated on for appendicitis. Dr. C. R. Hartman, who performed the operation, said the dog had a plain case of the disease, caused by some substance which the dog had eaten lodging in the appendix.

GRIP VANISHED AS HE GAZED UP

Tall Buildings Cause Loss to Man From Tennessee.

Robert B. Hicks of Jackson, Tenn., walked down on Washington avenue and stopped between Broadway and Sixth street.

"Gosh," he remarked, as he set his valise on the edge of the pavement and stepped into the street, "them's about the tallest houses I ever seen. They ain't got none like that in Jackson."

He looked several of the buildings over critically. Finally his neck grew weary, and he reluctantly dropped his gaze to the street and started to gather up his valise and go on his way.

But the valise wasn't there. Mr. Hicks told the police a few minutes later that it contained clothes, trinkets and money valued at $100, and that he supposed a thief took it while he was admiring the high buildings.

GROCERS THANK THE PRESIDENT

Executive Committee of Retail Association Indorse Work for Pure Food.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Through its Executive Committee, which met here yesterday, 150,000 members of the National Retail Grocers' Association thanked President Roosevelt for the stand he took in regard to the pure-food law recently passed by Congress.

"Although the law has some defects, it is a big step in the right direction," said John A. Green, president of the association. "It is the retail dealers who are most deeply concerned in the pure-food movement, and it was our association which started and helped maintain the campaign. We had a committee in Washington most of last session of Congress. We now will make a campaign in the various States for the making of laws to conform with the national pure-food law, and to make convictions under State laws possible. We predict that within two years the manufacture of impure foods will be impossible."

TOM JOHNSON AS THEATER MANAGER

Has Taken to the Business After Failing to Get Manager to Produce Plays.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., July 24.—Mayor Tom L. Johnson has come into the limelight in a new role. He will soon become a fullfledged theatrical magnate, and bids fair to gratify an ambition that has possessed him ever since his daughter, Miss Bessie Johnson, went on the stage two years ago.

When she made ahit with Annie Russell, the Mayor desired to have her starred, but was unable to obtain a manager, despite the fact he is a millionaire. Now he has become interested in the company that is building a playhous on West Twenty-fifth street, to be called the Majestic Theater. Here, it is said, his daughter's plays will be produced before they are submitted to Eastern managers. The Mayor was elected a member of the board of directors.

HOOE'S ATTORNEY HAS WITHDRAWN

Objects to Client's Saying He Advised Hooe to "Stick to His Statement."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 24.—W. A. Stanton, attorney for Clifford Hooe, the negro co-respondent in the Hartje divorce suit, announced yesterday he had withdrawn from the case on account of Hooe's confession to District Attorney Robb, in which he alleged Stanton had advised him not to plead guilty to perjury, but to stick to the original statement about Mrs. Hartje. Stanton is a colored attorney, who took up Hooe's case after Hartje's lawyer had made a battle for him and dropped out.

Attorneys for Mrs. Hartje filed a formal demand upon Hartje's attorneys last evening for the scrape of letters and other trash gathered out of the ash heap by Edward Hartje. At first Hartje's attorneys refused, but finally handed over a pasteboard shoe box full of letters, on which the defense will prepare for cross-examination today.

Negro Knights Cross State.

Nearly 400 negroes from St. Louis, representing five companies of negro Knights of Pythias, are in Kansas City at the twenty-second annual session of their grand lodge and the first grand encampment of the Uniform Rank. The party left St. Louis Monday night on a special train of 10 coaches, more than 5000 negroes thronging the midway at Union Station for an hour before their departure at 10:10 o'clock. Supreme Chancellor W. S. Clark of Charleston, W. Va., arrived in time to join the party. He and Supreme Vice-Chancellor S. Green of New Orleans, with several other supreme officers, were the guests of Grand Chancellor A. W. Lloyd and other officers of the Missouri Grand Lodge in a special Pullman car.

LOST JOB, FOUND DEAD IN HIS ROOM

Bottle With Laudanum Label Beside Body of George W. Wilson.

The body of George W. Wilson, 40 years old, was found in his room in Mrs. Elizabeth Koeln's boarding house, 8309 Vulcan street, at 5:30 a. m. Tuesday. A glass and bottle, which had contained laudanum, led the police to conclude Wilson committed suicide.

Wilson had been employed on a river transfer boat. A few days ago he was discharged. Since then he drank freely. His friends cautioned him, but he continued drinking.

A few minutes after he had retired to his room Monday evening Mrs. Koeln and others in the house heard a noise. They did not investigate.

Adolph Schillinger, another boarder in the house, went to Wilson's room Tuesday morning to wake him. He found Wilson's body on the floor, near an open window. On the ledge was an empty glass, bearing a strong odor of laudanum. Beneath the window in the yard was found an empty vial, marked with the laudanum poison label.

In the pockets were found $2 and letters and papers that showed he came from Humboldt, Kan. He had been in St. Louis six weeks. The body is at the Morgue.

Delegates Must Go East.

President Kern of the Jefferson Club will name a committee of 100 to represent the club at the Bryan reception in New York Aug. 29. An invitation to appoint such a committee was accepted at a meeting of the Board of Directors Monday night. An effort will be made to choose delegates who will promise to attend the reception. In recognition of their work for the club the board decided to present Ben Selkirk, Frank W. Peebles and Joseph P. McDonough with souvenirs at a meeting of the club Aug. 4.

THREE FACTS

For Sick Women to Consider.

FIRST—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

SECOND—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation, weakness and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing women for childbirth.

THIRD—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female ills are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

SAY EVELYN THAW WILL ASK DIVORCE

Friends in Pittsburg Declare That She Has Been Securing Evidence.

TIRED OF THE FAMILY

Told Thaw's Mother She Wished She Were Free of the Whole Lot.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 24.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw has been collecting information here upon which to base a suit for divorce against Harry K. Thaw, according to the young woman's friends here.

Mrs. Thaw has made no statement on this matter since the tragedy on the roof of Madison Square Garden, but persons close to the Holman family continue to assert that young Mrs. Thaw was simply awaiting the completion of her case before filing the suit. Certain friends of Mrs. Harry Thaw have been quietly gathering information as regards the life and habits of her husband, and it is said if proved in a court they would undoubtedly result in divorce.

Only a few weeks before the Thaws left Pittsburg for New York Mrs. Harry Thaw and Mrs. William Thaw had a quarrel. The young woman had not been invited to a social function, on which she had set her heart. When she found she was not to be among the guests, it is said, she took a young actress with her to Lyndhurst, the home of the Thaws, and was surprised while puffing a cigarette.

Mrs. William Thaw is said to have remonstrated with her, and the young woman told her she was tired of Pittsburg, of the Thaw family and of everything, and that she intended becoming her own self again as soon as it could be arranged.

It was at this time that Mrs. William Thaw learned of the temper possessed by her son's wife, according to those close to the family. Evelyn Thaw made no secret to her friends of her regret at the curtailment of her liberty. She told them she was through with the affair, and wished it were settled. Since that time friends have been supplying her with all the information they could obtain as to Harry Thaw's life since he married her.

When Stanford White was killed it was expected there would be a cessation of the work of collecting data, and for a time there was, but it has, friends say, been resumed.

DR. BARON SCOLDS CRITICS OF PAVING

St. Louis Coroner Says Edwardsville Citizens Are Prone to "Kick."

Dr. Jules Baron, Coroner of St. Louis, who is a director in the Banner Clay Works at Edwardsville, and is interested in contracts for paving streets with brick, has announced his opinion that the people of Edwardsville are very poor authority on the subject of paving materiak He complains that each citizen of Edwardsville has appointed himself "a committee of one to register kicks."

Dr. Baron appeared at a meeting of the Edwardsville Board of Improvements, held for the purpose of letting contracts for street paving. More than a million brick made at the Banner kilns have been used in paving Edwardsville streets, and all have given satisfaction, but during the past two weeks inspectors reported that several loads of inferior brick appeared. Dr. Baron resented the report that his company was furnishing inferior material, and refused to allow the contractors to consider the Banner company's brick in the new contracts.

EVERYONE WILL HEAR IT.

Prizes for Musicians Playing "Million March" Oftenest.

The "Million March," the official St. Louis march as selected by the Million Club, will be played for the first time in public by the orchestra at the Alps at the Million Club's benefit Tuesday night. The publicity bureau of the club will give first and second prizes of $1000 and of $500 respectively to the band or orchestra playing the march the most frequently in a season. It was composed by Miss A. M. Jones of St. Louis.

St. Louis County organizations are excluded from membership in the club by the constitution, according to a report made at the meeting Monday night.

John T. Nolde, first vice-president of the club, was appointed treasurer, succeeding Fred G. Zlebig, resigned. Henry T. Kent, second vice-president, succeeded to the first vice-presidency. Leo A. Landau was appointed a member of the executive committee in place of James A. Reardon, resigned.

CHILD RUN OVER DIES.

Tessie Schmidt Was Crushed by Broadway Car.

Tessie Schmidt, 4 years old, who was run over by a street car at Broadway and Lafayette avenue Monday, died at the City Hospital at 8 a. m. Tuesday. Her right shoulder was broken by the car, her face and body were badly lacerated and she was internally hurt.

The little girl ran directly in front of the vehicle and the motorman was unable to stop it in time to avoid running her down. She was caught under the trucks and crushed.

A crowd colected and the child's mother saw the gathering from a window at her home, 606 Lafayette avenue, but did not know the reason for it until her small son, Joseph, ran to her and told her his sister had been injured. Mrs. Schmidt hastened to the place, but was not permitted to see Tessie until she had been dragged from beneath the wheels.

Court to Reward Guessers.

The $30,500 prize for the nearest guess to the total attendance at the World's Fair will be awarded and paid out by the Circuit Court of St. Louis County, into which the prize money was paid Monday, because of the number of claimants. The money was offered by the World's Fair Contest Co., an enterprise of E. G. Lewis, and M. Logan was selected by judges appointed by the company as the winner. A number of other contestants then filed claim for the money.

KILLING BY TRAIN PRECIPITATES RIOT

Friends of Marlo Merlotti Try to Take Body From Police.

A crowd menaced the police when they prevented the friends and relatives of Marlo Merlotti from taking charge of his body at Howard Station Monday. The man had been killed by a Frisco passenger train and his fellow workmen could not understand why the police should interfere with their desire to have possession of his body.

Merlotti lived at 1908 Cooper street. He was struck by the train, hurled 40 feet and instantly killed. The police were informed and called a city undertaken's wagon. Before the vehicle arrived Merlotti's friends gathered and demanded the body. The police refused this request, trying to explain that the Coroner would first have to make an investigation.

The crowd became angry, but the police kept the body and it was taken to the Morgue. Merlotti's relatives will take charge of it after the Coroner's inquest.

YELLOW CUR TEARS CHILDREN'S ARMS

Father of One of Four Who Were Bitten Kills Animal.

Four children were bitten by a yellow cur before it was chased into St. Louis County and killed by the father of one of the children Monday afternoon. The dog bit Mabel Haase of 5873 Plymouth avenue on her left arm; tore the flesh of Morris Fitzroy's left hand; sunk its teeth in the left arm of George Ray of 5975 Kennerly avenue and bit the left arm of Hazel Myers of 2517 Hodiamont avenue.

The dog first appeared at Etzel and Goodefellow avenues and attacked several children who fled screaming into their homes. It continued to prowl about snapping at all the little ones it met until it started after Hazel Myers, whose father saw the attack. He hastened to the rescue, but before he could reach the daughter she had been bitten.

Mr. Myers obtained a revolver, chased the dog into Wellston and dispatched it with a bullet. The wounds of the children were cauterized, and none is considered dangerous.

ROOSEVELT IS TO DOMINATE THE CAMPAIGN

Intends to Take Hand in Every State Fight Where He Thinks He Is Needed.

PLAYING SHARP POLITICS

Does Not Propose to Let Factional Fights Cloud His Administration.

LEADER IN NEW YORK

He Will Recognize No One Else and Will Force Obedience to His Will.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 24.—President Roosevelt's plan of taking charge of the Republican congressional campaign this fall is only one of the political activities he has in mind. He intends to mix in every State fight where he thinks his influence will be needed to help force a victory for his party. The President has no idea of sitting idly at Oyster Bay and allowing factional fights in various localities to deprive him of the indorsement of his administration he thinks he deserves.

It was given out that he intended to go to his summer home and take a "long rest." He announced he did not want to see anybody except those he especially invited or those who had the most urgent business. He has been at Oyster Bay a fortnight and two weeks is a "long time" for him. He is rested now and he is playing politics with all his remarkable skill and foresight.

He has, thus far, three major propositions on hand:

1. He has no faith in the Platt-Odell reconciliation. It is his intention to take absolute charge of the State campaign in New York, break Platt and Odell if they do not fall in with him and dominate the nomination for Governor.

2. He now intends to make a speech at the York County Fair in Pennsylvania in October. That speech will be a rallying cry for all Republicans to support the organization ticket in the State, notwithstanding the Independent Republican movement, which has the support of the Democrats. He has promised Senator Penrose to make this speech on the ground that the Republican ticket is worthy of the support of every member of the party.

3. He will be practically in charge of the congressional campaign in the close States and will do all he can to help to elect a Republican majority.

He recognizes nobody but himself as the Republican leader in New York. He is making that clear to the politicians as the opportunities offer, and if they do not see fit to accept the situation it is his plan to make them accept it with a club.

The President has separated the Republicans into two broad divisions. On one side he has put Platt, Odell and all their varied and snarling following. On the other he has the younger element, like Gov. Higgins and his friends. It is too early to say that the President will advocate the nomination of Higgins, but it is not too early to say that he will not advocate the nomination of any Platt-Odell candidate, unless Platt or Odell pick a man he wants. It is quite likely that Platt and Odell, not being in the best of fighting trim, will do that very thing, but that is a development to come.

There is no better politician in the United States than the President. If he thinks he can profit by using Higgins, he will use Higgins, and it will add to Higgins' market value as a property to have him unaffiliated with the regular machine, unless the President wants to be the regular machine. Then he will have no compunction in dropping Higgins over the side of the basket without a parachute. When the President plays politics he plays politics to win. Platt is as good a pawn as Higgins, and both are better, if the game requires them.

SAYS CHARLIE ROSS IS ALIVE

Suspect Admits He Could Tell Something About Famous Kidnaping Case.

GALVESTON, Tex., July 24.—Charlie Ross, who was abducted from his home in Germantown, Pa., July 1, 1875, and has never been located, is still alive, according to a man who the police believe is Joseph L. Douglas, one of the abductors. The suspect is known as Joseph Likens, but he admits that it is not his name.

It has been claimed Douglas was wounded at the time Mosher was shot and killed while robbing a house. Likens has made a statement that he could tell something about Ross in 10 words, but he refuses to do so. He is familiar with the details of the Ross kidnaping, and declares that Ross is not dead.

CITY GAVE $243,818.

Van Blarcom Reports on San Francisco Relief Fund.

A statement of money received and paid out for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers by the Missouri department of the Red Cross Society has been made by J. C. Van Blarcom, treasurer of the Missouri department. It shows a total of $143,818 donated and paid out. This is aside from the $100,000 donated by Adolphus Busch.

The statement is declared to be correct by Price, Waterhouse & Co., accountants, and the entire fund was expended without any subtraction for salaries or expenses.

15 CINCINNATI ICE BARONS INDICTED

Investigation of Trust Conditions Results in Wholesale Informations Against Firms and Individuals in Monopolistic Agreement.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CINCINNATI, O., July 24.—As another result of the protracted probing into alleged local trust conditions, the grand jury has reported indictments against 15 individuals and firms engaged in the ice business. Recently leading wholesale coal dealers and a little later the laundries were indicted as being trusts, or as conspiring to interfere with trade.

The indictments charge conspiracy against trade under the Valentine Anti-Trust law. Two more indictments were returned in the laundry trust investigation and are against Henry M. Ziegler, theatrical manager and turf man, and William C. Ziegler, clerk to the superintendent of public schools. They are partners in the Walnut Hills laundry and were overlooked by the grand jury in its report a week ago.

The bond in each instance was fixed at $500. No bond is required in the cases of the companies which, have seven days in which to enter an appearance.

The penalty fixed by the statutes for the ice men if convicted is a fine of from $50 to $5000 or imprisonment from six months to one year, or both, at the discretion of the Court.

TOLEDO DEALERS GET AN EXTENSION.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TOLEDO, O., July 24.—Reuben Compton Lemmon, R. A. Beard and Joseph A. Miller, convicted icemen, had their liberty extended till Sept. 17. The Circuit Court adiourned yesterday afternoon to that date after refusing to dissolve the suspension of sentence granted some time ago. The attorneys for the icemen refused to waive statutory rights to 30 days in which to prepare their bills of exception in order to legalize the petition in error. This carried the filing time to the middle of August, and the Circuit Court then decided to take a month more for good measure.

When the case was called yesterday afternoon the attorneys for the icemen requested the court to dismiss the petition without prejudice at the icemen's cost, as it was no longer necessary because of the Court's ruling in the contempt cases. The real fact, as claimed by the prosecutor, is that the bill of exception had never been completed and filed and that there was no case to hear. Feeling runs high over the vexatious delay and it is feared that it would not take much to start serious and summarry action against the icemen and their attorneys.

GIRL OF 14 KEPT FROM BEING BRIDE

She Planned to Go to Tennessee and Say She Was Sixteen.

TWO CAPTURED AT TRAIN

Girl's Mother Asks Youth's Release, but He Is Held.

Edgar G. Perkins, 25 years old, of 923 Chouteau avenue, Sergeant in the First Regiment Band, National Guard of Missouri, and 14-year-old Sadie Winship of 8238 Church road, with whom he attempted to elope to Tennessee, causing his arrest, have been forgiven by Mrs. Jesse Winship, the girl's mother, and will be permitted to continue their courtship until the girl reaches marriageable age.

Mrs. Winship intervened with the police Tuesday to have Perkins released, saying that she had no objection to the marriage except that her daughter was yet too young. He was released.

Perkins and Miss Winship were arrested Monday night as they were awaiting a car at 8400 North Broadway on their way to Union Station to board a train for Tennessee. At the Baden Substation the young girl said they were going to Tennessee because the laws of that State permitted a girl of 16 to marry without her parents' consent. She was going to say she was 16.

Perkins was locked up and Miss Winship was turned over to her mother, who asked for his release.

Family Was Going Away.

Perkins said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Tuesday that the plan of the Winship family to move to Pittsburg next week lead him and Miss Winship to elope when consent to their marriage was refused. "We intended to come back immediately after we were married, and she was to go with her family to Pittsburg and I would come after her at the end of a year," said Perkins.

"I asked Mrs. Winship for Sadie before I went with the regiment to camp at Cape Girardeau. She said Mr. Winship, who is in Pittsburg, disapproved of Sadie marrying before she was 18. She promised to obtain his consent to our marriage when she was 16 if we would live with the family awhile after were married.

"We partly agreed on this, but while I was in camp I heard the band playing 'The Girl I Left Behind Me' and things like that, and I decided it was too risky to run the chance of losing a girl by letting her go where I could not see her for a long time. I decided that we would elope and be married and then let her live home until she was 16.

Music Joined Them.

"I would go to Pittsburg, but my father and mother are coming to St. Louis from San Francisco, where they lost everything in the earthquake and I will have to support them for some time until my father gets a start again.

"I wrote Sadie of my plans while in camp at Cape Girardeau. The regiment returned Monday, and I met her in the afternoon and we made our plans to elope.

"We would have got away all right if she had met me at the station, as I wished, instead of so near her home."

Perkins met Sadie Winship at a party last Novembr. When Perkins called on her she frequently accompanied his violin playing on the piano.

Miss Winship is a pretty blond and appears several years older than she is. "I've promised mamma that we wouldn't try to elope again," she said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. Mamma said he couldn't come to see me again if I didn't promise. I cried last night after I came from the police station, but I didn't cry down there. I was too proud."

LEPER NOW A TRAMP.

George Rossett Now Making His Way North on Foot.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

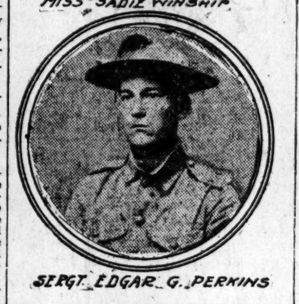

BALTIMORE, Md., July 24.—George Rossett, the Syrian leper, who has been endeavoring for several days to make his way from Elkins, W. Va., to the leper colony on North Brother Island, N. Y., where he has a brother, is now making his way North on foot.

Rossett left his home in West Virginia the middle of last week. He was driven from Elkins, W. Va., Thursday, and from Cumberland, Md., on Friday and reached Baltimore on a freight train Saturday. The only food he got that day was given him by the train crew, who placed the meal on the railroad track and ran away. Sunday he took a freight train for Philadelphia, but upon his arrival the municipal authorities placed a card reading "Leproay" on the car and sent the man back to Baltimore.

FALLS HEIR TO TWO MILLIONS

Tennessee Saloon Keeper Goes to Wyoming to Take Possession of Uncle's Estate.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BRISTOL, Tenn., July 24.—Jerre Miller, a Bristol saloon keeper, has fallen heir to $2,000,000 by the death of his uncle in Wyoming. Miller left yesterday for Wyoming to take charge of the estate.

Before leaving he made his partner, W. O. Trenor, a present of his one-half interest in a saloon business worth $8000 and gave away other valuable property to his friends in Bristol.

The uncle left Bristol 18 years ago for Wyoming with his ticket and $9 in his pocket. He went to that State and became interested with United States Senator Clark in the copper-mining business and became immensely wealthy. A telegram received by others in Bristol corroborates Mr. Miller's report.

VOLCANO'S ASHES FALL OVER SICILY

PALERMO, Sicily, July 24.—The Stromboli volcano, after quieting down, has again become violently active. The ashes reached Sicily.

Lava is pouring out of the crater and the population of the Island of Stromboli is terror-stricken.

FISHERMEN BLOWN UP.

Missouri Brothers Used Dynamite and Are Injured.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LEXINGTON, Mo., July 23.—While fishing on Tabo Creek, six miles east of here, Austin and Mike Mulhearn, brothers, prominent farmers of this county, were seriously injured by the discharge of a stick of dynamite.

Austin will probably lose an arm and his brother may lose a leg, as the result of the accident.

TEN KILLED WHEN WALLS FALL DOWN

Twenty-Four Persons Caught in Collapse of Building at So. Framingham, Mass.

WAS BEING ERECTED

Cement Gave Way and Three-Story Structure Fell Without Warning.

MANY WERE RESCUED

There Are Still Four Missing Who May Be Buried in Debris.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., July 24.—Under the light of electric lamps the work of exhuming the bodies of the victims of the collapsed Amsden Building went on unceasingly through the night.

At dawn there were 10 bodies at the morgue, eight of the injured were at the hospital, two others were at their homes, while the list of missing is four, making a total of 24, who, as far as could be learned early today, were about the building when the support gave way and sent the tons of cement, iron columns and steel beams crashing in a tangled mass into the basement.

A revised list of the dead, wounded and missing early today is as follows:

Dead:

Charles Blythe, South Framingham, superintendent of construction.

C. F. Hardy, Natick, head plasterer.

Patrick Prendergast, Newton Upper Falls, plasterer.

Frank Driscoll, Newton Highlands, plasterer.

Neal O'Brien, South Framingham, laborer.

William Scanlon, Halliston, laborer.

James W. Welch, Westboro, plasterer.

Lumbrino Augustino, laborer.

Romeo Marchie, laborer.

Joseph Drout, laborer.

C. W. Hutchinson, Holliston, Mass., arms and head injured.

Chester Nicholson, back injured and bruised head and arms.

Fred Howe, scalp wounds and injured shoulders.

John Hacksett, arm broken and head cut.

James Mulcahy, fractured arms and leg badly bruised.

Louis Pelgrinni, injured head and chest.

Edgar Bower, scalp wounds and right arm injured.

G. M. Amsden, South Framingham, owner of the building, fractured leg.

Missing:

Henry L. Sawyer, South Framingham, merchant.

Fred Cunningham.

T. Say.

Villi Onest.

The tottering walls and pillars and the hanging beams and girders made the work of extricating the bodies not only difficult, but dangerous.

The building was a partially constructed three-story structure. When the accident happened there were between 35 and 40 men at work in the building. Two or three loud explosions or cracks were heard in rapid succession and then the north side wall and about half the front wall collapsed and crashed through to the basement, burying the men.

Two car loads of Italian laborers were brought from Boston and were put to work shoveling, which they continued all night.

The cause of the accident could not be definitely learned today. The town has no building laws, and any proceedings against a contractor or other persons in connection with faulty construction will have to be upon another charge and any action will have to be brought by State officials instead of the local authorities.

FIVE BURGLARS IN ONE MONTH

Proud Work of Janitress of New York Apartment House.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Mrs. Esther Evans, a little woman with gray hair and steel-blue eyes, caught her fifth burglar within a month yesterday, and turned him over to the police. She is janitress in the apartment house at 128 East Twenty-ninth street. The regularity with which she has nabbed visiting housebreakers so soon as they commenced operations has aroused the admiration of tenants, neighbors and detectives.

Many of the tenants of the house are away for the summer, and each apartment has been wired with a burglar alarm system, with an indicator and a gong in the janitor's quarters in the basement. When the gong rang shortly after noon yesterday, Mrs. Evans looked up and saw that the third floor apartment was being tampered with. She rushed upstairs and pounced upon a young man who stood in the third floor hall.

She seized the burglar by the lapels of his coat and rushed him into a corner. To her intense surprise there was no fight in him. In some of her previous encounters the housebreakers have tried to break away, though always unsuccessfully. Instead of trying to escape, the burglar, who was young and well dressed, burst into tears.

Mrs. Evans held on, and Dr. J. L. Allen, who lives on the ground floor, arrived and offered to take charge of the man, but the woman declined his assistance.

LABOR MOVEMENT MOST WIDESPREAD

Gompers Declares That It Will Certainly Have Effect on Congress.

REPRESENTATIVES SURE

He Feels Certain That Labor Will Elect Several at Coming Election.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 24.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and representatives of local labor bodies are of the opinion that the present labor political movement is the most widespread the country has ever seen and that the local and national bodies who are going into it will make an aggressive campaign.

"I should be in a position to know the sentiment of the working people," said Mr. Gompers after the conference, "and the enthusiasm of the unions for the movement is practically universal. I am constantly receiving messages from the unions all over the country approving of the movement which I am told, is spreading like wild fire."

When asked if this movement had not a chance of meeting the fate of similar movements in which the unions were enthusiastic at first but grew lukewarm about it later, Mr. Gompers said:

"There is no fear of the unions becoming lukewarm about this movement. The time is singularly opportune for it and the unions rise to the opportunity. I have talked with forty or fifty representatives of organized labor about it in this city today, and I find the sentiment overwhelmingly in favor of independent political action as I am finding it in every other part of the country. We have enough level-headed, intelligent, honest workingmen to give labor a good representation in Congress and we will move heaven and earth to put them there to take hold of the measures for the benefit of the working people.

"There are plenty of able men in Congress but they are for the most part brilliant and adroit rather than honest, and they neglect the interests of the people at large for the interests of the corporations. We want to have a fair contingent of men who will see that the workingmen will get their rights and we will see that we get them."

MITCHELL WILL NOT DISCUSS CANDIDACY.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 24.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, may or may not be a receptive candidate for the Democratic nomination for the vice-presidency, for he grew his inscrutable smile when the question was presented to him last night.

"I have not heard anything of this until this morning," he said. "I have just returned from a visit with my family in Southern Illinois, and find this thing in the newspapers. I cannot say anything about it, of course.

"I wonder where it started?" he added?"

"Can you say anwthing about your declaration in the national convention of mine workers in Indianapolis last winter, that there is no political office in the United States for which you would resign the presidency of the United Mine Workers?" he was asked.

"That sentiment has never been revised in any way," Mr. Mitchell answered. Allusion was made to the proposed fight on Speaker Cannon by the labor element, but he declined an opinion.

THIRTEEN GIRLS IN GAY BATHING SUITS STIR STAID PIASA

They Wear Gaudy Swimming Garb Through Streets of Chautauqua Colony to Pool and Back, Which Is Against the Rule, but Many Are Pleased.

The Thirteen Hoodoo is dead. It has been drowned in the Piasa Chautauqua bathing pool. Thirteen St. Louis girls, the merriest and prettiest thirteen that ever bade defiance to bad luck and ill omens, have held it under the water for six days, and if it is not dead it might as well be, for as a hoodoo it is hopelessly hoodooed.

In throwing the horrid and hateful hoodoo overboard, the merry and pretty thirteen have made a bigger splash than has been made at prim Piasa in many a long day. They have been having the time of their lives, and folks have just had to sit up and take notice.

Bandanas Their Caps.

This was done invariably until the thirteen came. They had never heard of such an understanding. They had beauteous bathing suits of red and white and blue and polka dot too. The day they arrived and took possession of a cottage near the auditorium for a week, the Piasaquans had a new sensation. The thirteen gave it to them when they emerged from their cottage in rainbow raiment, each with a saucy bandanna fashioned into a cap, on her head, and started for the pool.

They had to pass the auditorium where a lecture was being delivered, and the meeting was almost broken up.

As they rollicked and romped down the graveled avenue toward the river, there was more of a stir in Piasa than there had been in many a year. Cottagers sat up and rubbed their eyes and called the rest of the folks. Some of the women were startled. The men did not say much. Thre were not many of them about at that time of day. They may have been awed into silence.

After they had taken their dip the girls raced in their dripping bathing suits through the grounds to their cottage, and the Piasaquans had another convulsion, more violent than the first.

Twice a day, since that, the 13 have caused commotions by traversing the route between their cottage and the pool. The issue that they have unconsciously raised is as to the propriety of bathers passing through the grounds in their bathing suits. It temporarily overshadows every other issue. The women who do not bathe in the pool are up in arms against the innovation. The girls and women who go bathing and have pretty bathing suits are showing what they think of it by doing likewise. The men, esthetic creatures, say it would be a pity to cover up such pretty bathing suits, and suggest that those who do not want to look might hide somewhere while the girls are passing.

They have raised an issue which has not been raised at Piasa Chautauqua since Hero Hobson came there four summers ago and saved from a watery grave a pretty girl who jumped into the muddy Mississippi for the purpose of being saved. On that eventful day some of the girls, made forgetful by the excitement, ran through the grounds in their bathing suits. When the dignified directors heard about it the girls were asked not to do so again. Although no rule was ever promulgated to that effect, it was the understanding that girls and women who chose to don their bathing suits at their cottages should wear long skirts to and from the pool.

Splash Surprised Them.

The directors are away during the day and the practice had gone on for several days before they heard of it. They have talked over the problem presented, but have not fully decided what they will do about it. They have held off because they did not want to hurt the feelings of the Thirteen, who did not know they were smashing an unwritten rule, hoping all the time that the practice would not extend any further, but when they learned that others were following the example of the thirteen they agreed that they would have to act. One of them said Tuesday that the rule against a bathers' promenade would be enforced. He was not sure whether a meeting of the board would be necessary. He rather thought it would be sufficient if General Manager Paisley were given instructions to break up the promenade.

The thirteen were surprised when they heard about the rule. "How should we know?" they asked. "Nobody told us there was such a rule. We are little maids from school and we don't want to break the rule. We came up here to swim, but we did not think we were going to make such a splash."

The thirteen are just out of Central High School. Friendship formed in school has survived in spite of their fateful number. They have a club which meets every other week. On an excursion to Piasa three weeks ago they decided on a week's outing there and picked their cottage. If they had been more familiar with the staid ways of the Chautauquans they would have selected one further from the auditorium. Thirteen girls in a summer cottage are bound to make some noise. The chaperons did their best, but when some of the boys came up from St. Louis at the end of the week there was so much joy at the cottage that the audience at the auditorium were involuntarily participants therein.

They Will Be Missed.

They have pursued innocent pleasure with a zeal that has rather established new records at Chautauqua, and when they go away, unless something else comes along to start an excitement, there will be something almost painfully sudden about the thud with which the resort will drop back into its former ways.

The thirteen are: Miss Genevieve Purcell, 4932 Laclede avenue; Miss Irma Rossmann, 5250 Maple avenue; Miss Eleanor Ludwig, Webster Groves; Misses Ella and Daisy White, 4365 Union avenue; Miss Carrie Plassmer, 3543 Wyoming street; Miss Maude Dockery, 3875 Delmar boulevard; Miss Alma Kunz, 4957 McPherson avenue; Miss Erna Koch, 2240 St. Louis avenue; Miss Edith Niehaus, 2763 Bacon street; Miss Alma Wahlers, 3543 Wyoming street; Misses Helaine and Esther Bienenstok, 5263 Vernon avenue. Their chaperons at Chautauqua are Mrs. E. H. Niehaus and Mrs. G. Koch.

MOTHER OF NUNS DIES.

Mrs. Elder Was Sister-in-Law of Late Prelate.

The funeral of Mrs. Josephine Elder, 92 years old, who died Monday at the Convent of the Good Shepherd, in Normandie, will be held Wednesday from the home of her son, Basil J. Elder, at Maplewood.

Mrs. Elder was a sister-in-law of the late Archbishop Elder of Cincinnati. She was born in Baltimore, and came to St. Louis more than fifty years ago. She has two daughters who are sisters in the Convent of the Good Shepherd.

SHREWD IDEA THE SURPRISE IN SAGE WILL

Predicted That He Has Prepared Document So as to Prevent Litigation.

NO DIVISION, PERHAPS

This Would Give the Settlement of His Estate Entirely to the State.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS

Services Today at Far Rockaway and Interment at Troy Tomorrow.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Unless there has been a final codicil added to the will of Russell Sage, executed five years ago, the "surprise" which he promised in the disposition of his personal property will be the shrewd manner in which he has headed off all litigation over his estate.

To one of his closest personal friends, now a member of the Stock Exchange, he confided his plan, which was to execute a testament which in its extent and purpose would make him die intestate as to one-half of his estate. In other words, he observed the law by making three or four specific legacies in which his widow was not mentioned at all and left the rest of his property to be partitioned according to the statute of distribution.

As he was childless, this would give his widow one-half, instead of one-third, as her dower right, and cause a partition of the remainder among his next of kin, according to their degrees of consanguinity, thus cutting off any chance of contest.

The aged financier had a horror of lawsuits, where property rights were affected.

No Chance for Dispute.

If that will is still in existence and has not been revoked or modified by codicil, Mrs. Sage will come into the possession of about $50,000,000, which will leave $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 for the heirs who are next of kin. There will be no chance for dispute except the proving of kinship, the cost of which the litigants will have to assume.

Preparations for contesting the will in the event of its provisions not being satisfactory to them already have been made by relatives of the financier. Nephews and grandnephews and others more remote are said to be considering steps for legal proceedings.

Mr. Sage had several brothers and sisters, none of whom is living, as far as can be ascertained, but various kinsmen who bear his name and who are scattered about the country, are looking to see if their family tree might not bear apples of gold.

There was a report current yesterday that a nephew who had resided in this city would be among the first to take action in case he were not adequately remembered.

Most of the relatives named were not on especially good terms with Mr. Sage. He had on more than one occasion given financial aid to them, but their ideas of life did not conform to his strictly business code.

By the special instructions of Mrs. Sage all persons who have even an inkling of the contest of the will are maintaining silence. It is said that in no announcement with regard to the bequests shall be made until after the funeral in Troy. She so thoroughly dominates the situation as to give color to the view that she will be practically in control of the estate of $100,000,000. Whatever gifts have been made to charaitable purposes, it is believed, were made upon her recommendation.

"Mr. Sage's death removes the last of the old-time financial giants of the street," said Charles W. Osborne, one of the executors. "I think his estate will measure up to $75,000,000 and may go as high as $100,000,000. He contributed $5000 for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers, which Wall street regarded as a generous contribution, coming from him. I congratulated Mrs. Sage on the subscription and she said she wished her husband had given $100,000. Mr. Sage enjoyed the accumulation of money, even in his old age, and I believe he had a distinct idea in his mind of some great work to be accomplished after his death."

Body in Casket.

Mr. Sage's body has been placed in an hermetically sealed copper case, which is enclosed in a solid mahogany casket resting on a bed of tufted satin. The handles of the coffin are of mahogany. A pane of plate glass covers the feature.

Brief services will be held this afternoon in the house at Lawrence and at 3:30 o'clock the coffin will be carried to the Presbyterian Church at Far Rockaway and at 5 o'clock it will be brought to Manhattan to the Sage house on Fifth avenue. Tomorrow the last journey will be made to Oakwood Cemetery, Troy, where the burial will take place alongside the grave of Mr. Sage's first wife.

Twenty years ago the death of Russell Sage would have caused a panic in Wall street, especially if monetary conditions were as stringent as they are at the present time. Yet the news of his passing away scarcely caused a ripple in the financial world yesterday.

Mr. Sage had outlived his influence in Wall street. He had ceased to be a factor, although his great wealth is still in active use there. For five years Mr. Sage had lived in retirement. He had carefully guarded against the evil effects his sudden taking off might have on the financial world. Just after the great financial panic of May, 1903, the strain of which Mr. Sage felt heavily, he gave power of attorney to his brother-in-law, Col. S'ocum, and his cashier, Mr. Osborne, to conduct all of his affairs. This power of attorney was so drawn that it gave the two men absolute discretion.

Field Inheritance Tax.

NEW YORK, July 24.—As a result of the recent appraisal of the estate in New York of the late Marshall Field, the Chicago millionaire dry goods merchant, the executors will be required to pay into the State treasury $75,919.94 inheritance tax.

RAIL AND WAGON DELIVERIES.

It is a fact to be deplored that in all of the discussions and negotiations looking to the settlement of the great question raised by the Bridge Arbitrary, the people's representatives have been met in a spirit, not merely of resistance, but of subterfuge and insincerity by the interests which profit through the Terminal combine. Declaring that they are in accord with the St. Louis people in the desire to minimize the mischievous effect of the Mississippi River on our commerce, they have grudgingly, and by cheese-paring methods, made concessions to clamor. Declaring that, if they had plenty of terminals on the St. Louis side, as they would like to have, they could make the arbitrary a thing of the past, they have found it impossible, they say, to arrange for West Side terminals.

They have explained, moreover, through their newspaper apologists, that, however much they would like to take off the Terminal tax, it would not do, because the removal of a river toll would so congest the West Side tracks and switches as to paralyze trade. Asserting that they are carrying freight across the river at unreasonably low prices, at prices that are clearly unremunerative because no dividend has ever been paid on Terminal stock—they fight any attempt by an independent road to carry freight over the same river in competition with these losing prices. To this end they paid fabulous prices for the Wiggins Ferry stock, rather than see the Rock Island road possess the ferry and carry its own freight across the river. To this end they bought and practically fenced up the Alton bridge, for fear that some road might secure it and compete with them in their over-the-river transportation game.

And now, again deferring the day when St. Louis freight shall reach St. Louis in steam cars, direct from the East they have devised a combination rail and wagon delivery, which still maintains the features of the arbitrary, but is so ingenious and complicated as to obfuscate the "kickers." This scheme still announces to all the world that, while East St. Louis is an important railroad point on the American map, St. Louis is somewhat "inland," or off the road, and can be reached only by ferry and wagon haul.

It is said that the Mayor's Terminal Commission, which at first had its doubts, has finally been argued into a condition of acquiescence and that it accepts a delivery by rail, ferry and wagon as, in effect, "equally as good" as the delivery St. Louis has for several years been seeking through petition, prayer, and clamor.

While we have for some time known that that commission was peculiar, we are not willing to believe this last report. If by any chance it be true, it would be interesting to know when, in the minds or dreams of the commission, the rail and wagon epoch is to end. Is it possible that they have persuaded themselves that the railroads will in the distant future be able to buy terminal property in St. Louis for much lower prices than now prevail—that therefore delay for another few years is wise? Or, is it possible that they regard it as entirely practicable and right that St. Louis shall forever remain off the line and three or four miles from its railway station?

If St. Louis is ever to have West Side terminals now is the time to begin to get them. Any policy or scheme which defers getting them until some other year is not only mischievous, but hostile to St. Louis commerce, and is really intended to prevent getting them at all.

The dear old days of the epizootic, when the adventurous traveler from New York reached Fourth street by rail and ferry and bus, and his luggage by rail and ferry and ox team are interesting as memories, but it will not do to rely on them for our methods of commercial progress.

Not content with the finest sheaf of wheat, Oklahoma wants to show the best bale of cotton.

TIRED TRAINMEN.

A former railway employe who once was on the road 52 hours at a stretch, relates his sensations and ideas in the Outlook of last week.

It was, of course, a nightmare. And it was not due to the intelligence and alertness of himself and his fellow-sufferers that the train escaped disaster. It was due to sheer good luck aided perhaps by the dispatcher, who knew their condition and watched the road with more than ordinary care.

According to the Accident Bulletin of the Interstate Commerce Commission, there were, during October, November and December of last year, 2077 collisions, 267 of these affecting passenger trains. Not counting grade crossing casualties, 1119 persons were killed and 17,118 injured. Every item of this report is larger than that of the one preceding, and the Commission ascribes the increase to the fact that employes are kept on duty too many hours at a stretch.

The Outlook writer observes that "the human factor, especially on single-track roads, plays an important part in the safety of train movements, chiefly because the block system, owing to the enormous expense of installation, is little used. But even where block signals are in operation, what meaning has the rigid semaphore and gleaming red lamp for sleep-closed eyes?"

But it is just this human factor so necessary for safety that is sacrificed for profit. The Interstate Commission will undoubtedly be supported by an energetic public sentiment in any attempt to correct this heartless evil.

The fevered Illinoisans will do well to remember the Texas oil fever.

NO COMPROMISE POSSIBLE.

Ivan Illich Petrunkevitch, who has been conspicuous as a leader of the Constitutional Democrats, is the subject of a biographical sketch in the Outlook by George Kennan who visited his family in 1886.

Petrunkevitch was a member of the provincial assembly of Chernigoff. Being active in endeavors to promote the welfare of the peasants, he got himself into trouble with the Minister of the Interior and was classed as "troublesome" and "politically untrustworthy." Thinking to silence him, the Government banished him to the distant province of Tver.

But he made a new home there, married the widow of Count Panin, a cultivated and attractive young woman, and was soon afterward elected to the Provincial Assembly of Tver. Again the Government took alarm. His wife visited St. Petersburg; while there an official called on her, showed her an autograph letter from Czar Alexander III directing that her daughter by her first husband be taken from her and educated in a state school. The Czar declared that he could not allow the daughter of one of his loyal subjects to be trained up as a "nihilist."

The case is probably not singular, and yet there are thinkers even outside of Russia who think something can be said for the autocracy.

The Government of Russia has created its own difficulties. It is not bound by its own laws and does not hesitate to commit outrages like this upon Mme. Petrunkevitch whenever the Czar or one of his keepers is seized with an insane fear.

It is foolish to expect a compromise with such interests. The dissolution of the Duma is perhaps the best thing that could have happened. It is a confession that the differences are irreconcilable and that one side or the other must make unconditional surrender.

The fatal lightning at the Sunday ball game in Manitowoc didn't touch the umpire.

HIS ONE GREAT VIRTUE.

As a multi-millionaire of the old school, Russell Sage had a virtue which deserves to be recorded for imitation. Chief among his business traits and sufficient to cover a multitude of sins was his general tendency to use his money always in business, and never in politics for "business purposes."

He had little or no personal connection with the purchase of legislatures, the corruption of the judiciary and the control of legislation in Congress by the use of money. His associate, Jay Gould, who was long notorious as a corruptionist in politics, once said that it was cheaper to elect men than to buy them afterwards. But Russell Sage, however he may have profited by the results of money spent to corrupt politics, did not believe in spending his own money for that purpose.

As a "plutocrat" is one who uses money corruptly as the means of control in government, Russell Sage was not in this sense a plutocrat, unless it was possibly in exceptions to his rule of keeping his own money for his own uses.

He made profits on calamity, public and private. He extorted usury on call loans said to have been as high as 60 per cent a month or over from the victims of Wall street panics. He did not believe that for every dollar any man takes from the community he is bound to give the community a dollar's worth. He was almost everything a man cannot be in the fair trade that is no robbery. But he was not a plutocrat. He did as little as he could consistently do to corrupt American politics.

This was his one great virtue, and if it was negative in him it is still the one virtue which, as far as it is illustrated in the future, will make the United States a safe and comfortable place of residence for multi-millionaires.

The horrors of a false hair famine in Paris can scarcely be realized or understood anywhere else.

FRESH AFTER FOUR YEARS.

City people in the United States and in all parts of the world which are civilized enough to be reached by the benefits of science, are vitally interested in the chemical analyses Chicago is making to decide whether fresh fish are still fresh after having been kept in cold storage for four years.

It seems a matter for astonishment when Post-Dispatch telegrams announced that a Chicago inspector had seized no less than 25,000 pounds of fresh fish which had been kept in storage for four years. The reason of course is clear enough. They had been held out of market to keep the market "steady."

Science in cold storage controlled by the modern trust, gives us this great boon of perennial freshness in what were once perishable foods. The only limit to their freshness is the state of the market. If they have been held a year, two years, or three years, and the market has at last grown steady enough to allow them to be sold in the fourth year with the market "firm," then at last we get the benefit of their perennial freshness for the breakfast table.

The Chicago beef magnates now control much of the cold storage product of the country. They are reaching for the rest. And they are giving us the full benefit of science in doing it.

When in search of the final miracles of science, the poet peered into the future "far as human eye could see," he did not see the final result in trusts and ptomaines. But we are getting increased opportunity to realize greater wonders than poets ever dreamed of.

THE CALL OF THE COOL PLACES.

I.

Throughout the long, Saharic day
The mountains call,
The mountains beautiful and gray,
The mountains tall.
"O, come away!" the mountains say,
"And drop it all!
You're looking pale! Come hit the trail!
Come hit the trail! Come hit the trail!
And be well tanned for it!"

They call all day, all day, all day
The mountains beautiful and gray,
Inviting us away, away—
But we must say, alas! "Nay, nay,
The trusts won't stand for it."

II.

Throughout the long, hot summer, too,
The sea has cried,
The ocean billowy and blue,
The ocean wide.
"O, come away!" the billows say,
"Come hear the tide!
You're near your grave! Come ride the wave!
Come ride the wave! Come ride the wave!
And be well tanned for it!"

All summer long the sea has cried,
The ocean billowy and wide,
And begging not to be denied—
But we must say alas! "Nay, nay,
The trusts won't stand for it."

III.

The whole day drear and hot we hear
Their tempting call,
The ocean wide, with heaving tide,
The mountains tall.
"O, come away! O, come away!"
We hear it all.
But if we went on pleasure bent
And spent a cent for merriment
We'd be well tanned for it.

With prices high and highway rents,
With ice as much as 40 cents,
We'll stay at home and pay, pay, pay,
And shall not go away. Nay, nay,
The trusts won't stand for it.

HE DIDN'T DARE.

WHAT'S THE NEWS FROM PETERHOF?

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By Clark McAdams.

What's the news from Peterhof? From quiet little Peterhof?
From peaceful little Peterhof, where Nicholas resides?
What's the double guard about? And what's the fighting hard about?
And what's the bloody yard about? And what's the row, besides?
Duma! Eh? D'ye mean to say he's knocked it in the head?
Freedom, Eh? D'ye mean to say the Parliament has fled?
Nicholas, proud Nicholas, what dreams are in your head!

What's the news from Peterhof? From restful little Peterhof?
From sweet, Edenic Peterhof, where Nicholas retires?
What's the din and roar about? And what's the bolted door about?
And what's the running gore about? And what are all the fires?
Joking! Eh; D'ye mean to say he's cancelled all he said?
Joshing! Eh? D'ye mean to say it wasn't on the dead?
Nicholas, weak Nicholas, what folly's in your head!

What's the news from Peterhof? From cozy little Peterhof?
From soothing little Peterhof, of which we've often read?
Whose corse is that upon his shield? What man is that the Cossack steeled?
And why is Nicholas concealed in underneath his bed?
Fighting! Eh? D'ye mean to say he's willed that blood be shed?
Riots! Eh? D'ye mean to say the hope for peace is dead?
Nicholas, fool Nicholas, how cheap you hold your head!

MR. ROOSEVELT AS AN ISSUE

From the New York World.

"The Republicans intend that Mr. Roosevelt shall be the issue in the Congress campaign," complains the Buffalo Times. Of course they do. What better issue can they have? Not only is Mr. Roosevelt the issue, but apparently the issue is going to manage the campaign. This may displease Democrats, but no Republican candidate for office is likely to complain either about the issue or the manager.

It was inevitable that Mr. Roosevelt should be the issue in the fall campaign, but how about 1908? Is it not almost certain that he will be the issue in the next presidential campaign if conditions continue as they are now? That is a situation which the Democratic party might as well face first as last. Let us examine it.

Mr. Roosevelt has really done extraordinarily well in the matter of curbing the trusts, monopolies and corporations. It is easy enough to say that he might have done more, but the fact remains that in curbing abuses of organized capital he has done much better than any of his predecessors in the White House, and while he has been doing it he has succeeded in holding the party together. He has forced a rate law, meat-inspection law and a pure-food law through Congress. He has enforced the anti-trust law as none of his predecessors ever dreamed of doing. He is enforcing the anti-rebate law with vigor and success. He is moving against the most powerful and the most unpopular corporation in all the world, the Standard Oil Co.

Let us assume that the Democrats nominate Mr. Bryan on a platform demanding the curbing of corporations and the destruction of trusts and monopolies. Mr. Roosevelt has already appropriated these issues. In large measure he has made them his own. Will not his party demand his renomination on the ground that having instituted these reforms he is the logical candidate for President in order that he may complete his work? Will Mr. Roosevelt be able to resist such an appeal?

If it should come to the pinch of choosing between Mr. Roosevelt with his record of substantial achievement and an untried Executive like Mr. Bryan with a handicap of dead issues, would not the sober business elements of the country select Mr. Roosevelt as the lesser evil? Would not the very men who are denouncing him for what they call "meddling with business" support him in preference to somebody who claimed to be far more radical?

And if in addition to an appeal to the country for support in carrying out the reforms he has already undertaken, Mr. Roosevelt should add tariff reform on the basis of moderate, reasonable protection, would not that add immensely to his strength among independent voters? Would not this be particularly the case if the Democratic convention adopted a violent and extreme anti-protection plank of Mr. Bryan's own framing? Mr. Bryan still clinging to his belief in free silver, still handicaped by the 1896 attack upon the Supreme Court and standing on a platform that denounced every form of protection as "a robbery of the many to enrich the few," would it be Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Bryan whom the business interests of the country would favor for President?

Could Mr. Roosevelt refuse a nomination in such circumstances? Would his party permit him to refuse?

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Interurban Trolleys.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your editorial in the Post of July 20, headed, Missouri to "Catch Up," is timely and hits the nail on the head.

When it comes to interurban trolley systems, the great State of Missouri lags behind Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois and other States. The States above mentioned are honey-combed with interurban lines which have proven a great factor in the development of the rural districts. Missouri needs them and the agitation in this direction, started by your editorial above referred to, should be continued until the civic pride of the people that "must be shown" is aroused to such an extent as to make it possible for Missouri to make up what it has lost by its lethargy during the past 10 years.

This editorial of yours strikes us at Kimmswick so pertinently and timely, because a trolley line is to be built through our county. It is proposed to run a trolley line from the Jefferson Barracks to Hillsboro, Mo. This would be a boon for the farmers along the line and would open up the country further down, all of which is a well-known fact. For the past 15 years, speculators, who were insincere in their promises, have come out with franchises to build a road, but not a rail was laid down or a spike driven. A party of St. Louisans are now asking a franchise to build a line from Jefferson Barracks to Hillsboro and these gentlemen will build the line. They have asked for a franchise and some of the citizens opposed the granting of same. We want the line, feeling that we need it, and we honestly believe that the gentlemen back of this proposed trolley line will push it to completion without a minute's delay. G. A. WENOM,

Store Door Delivery.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Writing on behalf of the West End Business Men's Association, by which I have been charged with the duty of keeping watch on the progress of the free bridge movement, as far as such movement may affect the welfare of that portion of our people represented by its membership, I wish to say I have read with pleasure the item in today's Post-Dispatch sounding a note of warning against the danger of the present proposed "store door delivery" transfer plan reported to have been agreed upon between the constituent railroads of the Terminal Railroad Association and our Municipal Terminal Commission. The feature of the matter I particularly wish to protest against is the making of any "agreement" by the Terminal Commission in the premises. It has no such authority, and has no right, therefore, to undertake to commit the people and city, legally or morally, to any agreement or understanding whatsoever. In your editorial of Sept. 14, 1905, you have clearly and concisely stated the duties with which, and which alone, the Terminal Commission has been charged. They are:

"1. Investigating thoroughly the present bridge and terminal conditions, for which an appropriation of $25,000 is available.

"2. Formulating and reporting remedies for defects and suggestions for improvements."

It thus appears that the Terminal Commission has no authority to "agree" to anything. It can only "report remedies for defects and make suggestions for improvements." Whether the remedies reported and improvements suggested shall be adopted and put into effect is for others to determine.

We should not permit the free bridge movement to be sidetracked and smothered by any intentional or unwitting action of any unauthorized body or person whatsoever.

The people have issued the instructions in the matter by their vote on the free bridge item of the bond issue, and until they express themselves otherwise in some constitutional and legal manner nothing now remains to our city officials but to carry out these instructions in good faith and to the letter.

COL. TODHUNTER

The Mere Thought of Being Shut Out of the Bryan Reception Brings on an Acute Hemorrhage of the Dad-Blamer.

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By Ripley D. Saunders.

"WELL, suh," said Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter, apprehensively, "there seems to be such a grapevine tangle in the Missouri arrangements for the Bryan reception that I'll be dadblamed if I know whether I'm afoot or ahorseback as a member of the Reception Committee, suh.

"My one hope now is that the story of Bill Stone being chosen as chairman of the 'Committee on Scope and Plan,' with power to name 10 Missourians as a Reception Committee from this State, is true. Bill's a former Kentuckian, same as me, and I don't believe he'll go back on a Kentuckian when it comes to a pinch—especially a Kentuckian who's become such a good Missourian as Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter. It'd be a shame, suh, and I tell you the two great sister States of Kentucky and Missouri will stand on their hind legs and howl if I ain't one of the Missouri committee whose clarion tones is heard on the pier when the ship bearing the great and glorious William Jennings Bryan sails majestically into its home port, suh.

"Especially, suh, since I've prepared a speech of welcome that'll sound the vital issues of the campaign of 1908 in a way to make the Republican elephant tuck his tail between his legs and squeal worse'n a stuck pig, suh.

"I ain't giving out any advance copies of that great oration, suh, because I'm too old a soldier to waste my ammunition before the fight begins, but I'll be eternally condemned if it ain't a rip-snorter, suh. It'll warm the cockles of every Democratic heart in this vast country, suh; it'll bring their fighting blood to a boil, suh, that'd cook an egg quicker'n you can say Jack Robinson, and it'll mean Democratic victory at the polls as sure as it gets into print, suh. I acknowledge that I fell out of a boat into Breeze's Lake rehearsing my famous Kentucky reunion speech, and out of the Louisville Army window when I was called on to deliver it, suh, but that was a different matter, suh. Our glorious party is in sore need of just such a speech, suh, as the one I've struck off for the attentive ear of Mr. Bryan, and I'll see to it that the speech is delivered if I bust the last button on Gabe's coat doing it, suh.

"That is, suh, if Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter's name is 'one of the few, the immortal names' of the 10 great and good Missourians chosen to enfold Mr. Bryan in their arms the minute his beloved feet again tread their native heath, suh. If it ain't—well, suh, that speech will sink unspoken into oblivion and the blackest blot of the stain of Democratic defeat in 1908 will rest upon the garments of the man who gave me the go-by in selecting the Missouri committee, suh.

"A word to the wise, suh, ought to be sufficient. I believe Bill Stone is wise, but I pause, suh, for a response to this utterance that shall settle the question—and, incidentally, powerfully affect the future of our great party, suh."

If the egg is held up between the hands before a light in a dark room the air space can be easily discerned, and by its size the age can be determined. In a perfectly fresh egg the air space is very small, but as age increases it extends until when the egg is three weeks old the air space occupies about a sixth of the entire contents. With practice the age can be told to within 24 hours. Shiny and mottled eggs are not young.

THE FOOLISH LIFE

DRAWN FOR THE POST-DISPATCH BY R. W. TAYLOR

CLEVER THINGS I NEVER SAID

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By Lowe R. Case.

I WAS sitting in at an executive session of John D. Jr.'s Sunday school class, listening to a thrilling discourse of his on the Tower of Babel.

"Innumerable people were gathered there," he said, "of all sorts and nationalities, and all chattered away regardless of the others, and quarreled and disagreed and shouted and wrangled, and were at cross-purposes and hated each other, and"——

"Why, Jack," I broke in playfully, "I didn't know summer hotel verandas were invented in those days!"

"See!" shrieked my friend, the Chief Muck-Raker, "the pork-packers live in luxury and comfortable immunity, while veterans of the war are forced to demand pensions in order to keep alive! All of which proves"——

"That the 'pen' is mightier than the sword," I butted in, with a roar of infectious laughter at my own ready (made) wit.

My friend, the veteran runner-up in the Presidential Sweepstakes, Bill J. Bryan, was telling me with great gusto of his trip through Japan, and the strange, un-Nebraska-like customs he had observed while studying the Little Brown Brother at home.

"I heard of one case, up country," he prattled on, "where a man bought a wife for two dollars and a plated silver photograph frame. Isn't that outrageous?"

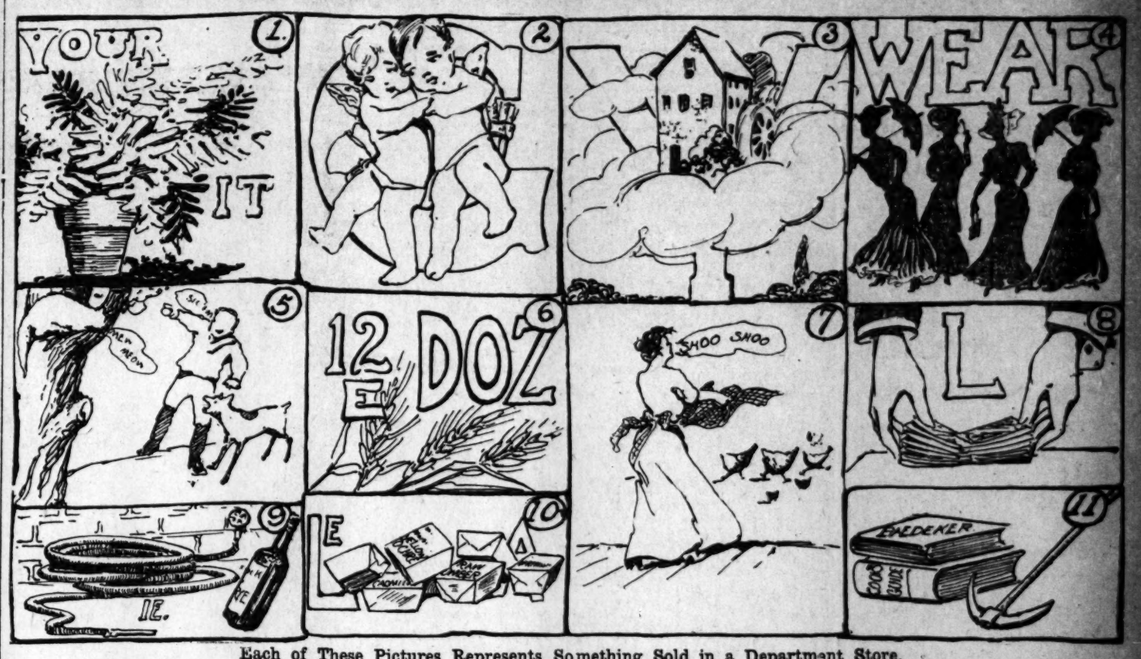

"Why, no, Bill," I replied, with my inimitable dry humor, "not necessarily. A good wife is well worth that much."

J. Pierpont Morgan had taken me out for a spin on his yacht (the "spinning" being done by a patent automatic spinmaker). As we ate our "beef and—from solid gold plates and quaffed our foaming sarsaparilla from goblets of beaten platinum, Pierp turned to me and said quizzically:

"You can't imagine how often Wall street crooks try to sell me a gold brick. But they can't do it, not the sharpest of 'em!"

"That's because they make the blunder of not calling the brick an 'art treasure,'" I snickered, slapping him merrily on the back to emphasize the point.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER

"The American Lady."

Minna Thomas Antrim in Lippincott's.

The home life of a typical American lady is the sincerest index of her ego. In it she indelibly expresses herself. Here it is that she exercises to the maximum her potentiality and that her personality scores. Presumably she is a wife and mother. Her age? Pouf! A lady of cleverness nonplusses Time.

She is her son's best girl, her daughter's chum, a hostess sans reproche. She rules her home with thrift and skill. Her husband safely trusts in her, and her price is above her birth-stone.

Petense never finds a foothold in a lady's menage. Display seems to her well-poised mind not only belittling, but savage. She never confounds litter with furnishing or junk with art.

Her house is beautiful, its atmosphere fine and clear. She is never too busy to listen to her "boy" or advise her "girl" or read to their father. Your people en masse delight in her. She their ideal mother and friend. Laughter is never hushed in her home. Music is welcomed, and budding merit of whatever sort finds in her an earnest and sympathetic ear.

Woman's Ways.

The young man kissed the maiden fair,
And she did not resist,
Nor any protest offer as
She twice—and thrice—was kissed.
But when he smacked her one again
With a resounding pop,
She stamped her pretty foot and cried,
"Don't!" "Stop!"

The young man was chagrined to be
So frigidly repelled;
He mutely drew his head away
And freed the hand he held.
Deep silence reigned—one might have heard
A tiny hairpin drop—
Until at last the maiden lisped,
"Don't stop!"
—Dwight Spencer Anderson, in The Bohemian for July.

Something New in Leather.

"Jack has just sent me the newest thing out in the way of a pocketbook," said the latest-to-be-engaged member of the Fad and Frill Club. "It's a vanity bag, and it's a wonder, for it holds such a lot of things. And then the shape of it is so novel, it looks exactly like a big four-leaf clover, and I intend to make it my mascot. It's of lovely green leather, and it's really shaped just like a clover. Of course, there's a handle, but that you have to forget. Inside, besides the mirror, powder puff and little rouge box, there is the cutest pair of gold-mounted opera glasses that you can think of, and they fold up so flat that they take up no room whatever. Then there's a tiny cut-glass vinaigrette, a gold pencil, and a little gold box for holding hairpins, coin purse, and a place for calling cards."—Grace Margaret Gould in Woman's Home Companion for August.

Genius in Flannel Collar and Tennis Costume: Seen Loeb?

Correspondent of the Daily Dope: Ah, he's a lemon, that guy!

Cub Reporter: I'll go! (All present regard him with a look of disgust.)

Representative of The Yellow Fellow: Anybody got a cigarette? Say, it looks like rain again.

Genius in Flannel Collar: Rain'll spoil the wheat crop if it keeps up.

Genius in Red Sweater (brightening up): Say, fellows, there ain't no wheat at Sagamore Hill, but——

Correspondent of The Daily Dope: You're one of them knockers that want to hamper us with facts! (Cuttingly) Why don't you cut it out?

Representative of The Yellow Fellow: That wheat story for mine!

All—Sure!

Genius in Red Sweater: We had Teddy Maud Mullering yesterday, but Smith, the secret service man, said to me that Roosevelt doesn't like them camping-out stories. He thinks it hurts him with the labor vote, who imagine he's loafing too much on his vacation.

Genius in Flannel Collar: Tilling the soil and strenuous life stories are the stuff! Can't give 'em too much!

Cub Reporter: But if we went to Mr. Loeb or drove out to Sagamore Hill we might find out the President was doing something, really and truly. Couldn't we?

(The scorn of the rest is too great for words, as they depart for telephone and telegraph.)

(Excerpt from out-of-town dailies.)

THE PRESIDENT HOES HIS WHEAT!
CONTINUOUS RAINY WEATHER HAS EXECUTIVE APPREHENSIVE THAT HIS GRAIN CROP WILL BE DAMAGED.
HIS SKILL AS A WHEAT HOER AMAZES LEM DUSENBERRY, WHO ASSISTS HIM.

Oyster Bay, Yesterday.—"Come on, Lem!" said President Roosevelt to Lem Dusenberry, his favorite farmhand, at Sagamore Hill, this morning. "Unless we hoe that fall wheat on the upper ten acre I'm afraid we'll lose it, for I calculate it's going to rain again!"

"Gosh all hemlock!" said Lem, recounting it afterward at Si Hankinson's general store in the village. "Gosh all hemlock! I thought I could hoe wheat some, but I tell you what, there hain't a wheat hoer in this township, nor two of 'em, can keep up with Teddy Roosevelt!"

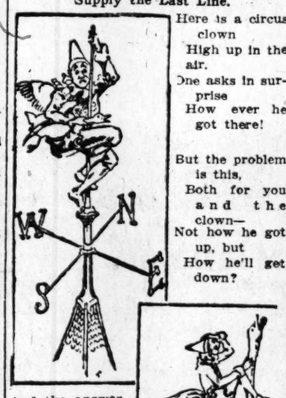

Lem was strictly keeping within the facts. For inside of two hours the President had six acres of the fall wheat hoed and hilled, while Lem, who is a husky individual, was panting to finish the rest.

The President is a thorough farmer, and can tell within a bushel how much corn he will thresh every year. The fall wheat, however, is his special pride, although he will not be here this fall to mow it.

That the President should impart some of his meteorological knowledge to the Weather Bureau is also apparent, for just as the last of the fall wheat was hoed the rain he had presaged came down in torrents.

St. Louis Player and Wife Visiting Relatives in North End

MRS. VAL. C. CLEARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleary May Be Seen Here in Fashionable Vaudeville Soon.

Val. C. Cleary, a St. Louis contribution to the stage, has been visiting his relatives in North St. Louis this past week, accompanied by his wife, known professionally as Grace Pickert. They will leave soon for Long Island, where Mrs. Cleary's parents live, and will begin their season in New York in September as members of the Four Pickerts Company, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Pickert, senior. Mr. Cleary, well known in local amateur theatricals, left St. Louis three years ago, became associated with the Pickerts and married Miss Grace Pickert in Florida while the company was on tour. She is the daughter of Willis Pickert, the great clog dancer, and is herself an excellent dancer and an actress of much ability and beauty. The Four Pickerts appear in dramatic repertoire, introducing fashionable vaudeville, and may be seen in a vaudeville sketch in St. Louis this coming season. Mr. Cleary plays the leading roles and is well known in the South, where the company is so popular that it played a 16-weeks' engagement in Florida last season.

REAL BUFFALO HUNT AND SHAM RUSH FOR LAND

Miller Brothers Announce "Another Big Time at the 101 Ranch."

TWO ANIMALS AS PREY

"Buffalo Jones" Will Lead Run on His Two Galloping Horses.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BLISS, O. T., July ?.—Another buffalo killing has been scheduled for the "101" ranch, near here. J. C. Miller, president of the famous range, announces that he has concluded to repeat the great show given in June of last year, with a lot of new features.

The dates for this year's roundup are Sept. 15 and 16, the anniversary of the "opening of the Cherokee strip." The run for that tract of 6,000,000 acres was made in 1893. Next to the killing of the buffaloes, a sham repetition of that famous scramble for land will be the feature of the two days of wild West life.

Between 65,000 and 75,000 people were entertained last year at the ranch on June 11. This year the Millers are looking for a much bigger crowd. Arrangements have been made with the Santa Fe Railway to run 100 extra chair cars to Bliss to carry the pilgrims.

"What are you going to call the show?" was asked of J. C. Miller.

"'Another Big Time at the 101 Ranch,'" was the answer.

"Will you kill any buffalo?"

"Yes, two. We have a herd of 36 on our ranch now. The ones killed will be big, full-grown animals. One will be killed by the Indians and given them to eat, and the other will be killed by the white men, and cut into the smallest possible pieces, so as to give every visitor a piece which he may carry away as a souvenir."

Evading Another Controversy.

Mr. Miller would not tell the manner in which the animals will be killed. Last year he had a world of trouble over the slaughter of a pair of animals. Things got to such a stage that the State Militia of Texas was ordered out, and then President Roosevelt was asked to interfere. He instructed Oklahoma's Governor to prevent the killing of the animals if it was to be done in a brutal manner. But the Indians got in their work with their arrows before the troops got on the ranch.

So this year Mr. Miller is decidedly wary about giving out the manner in which the old kings of the prairie are to meet their death. "Nothing will be said about that at all," he said. "The visitors who come will see it for themselves, and will find out in that way. But the killing will take place—that is a certainty."

"How are you going to imitate the great run of 1893?" was asked.

"That can be arranged for nicely," he answered. "We expect to have about 10,000 Indians under old Chief Geronimo at the ranch. All of the white settlers in our neighborhood for miles about will be called upon to help us, especially those who participated in the actual run. They know just how it was done.

Buffalo Jones' Feat.

"Buffalo Jones will be with us and repeat his famous ride with two horses. Men familiar with that time will remember that he went in on two horses, riding one a part of the time and then jumping onto the other while at full speed. He beat all the others. He will duplicate that ride. The run will be a great feature. So nearly as possible, it will be a duplicate of the great race. There are a great many persons in Oklahoma who participated in it, and they will help to make it as nearly real as possible."

"Who will be the big guests?" was asked.

"We will send out a lot of invitations, but have not so far because we have just decided on having another buffalo killing. Last year we entertained 3000 newspaper men. We want them all again this year, and more, and will give them everything they want in the way of comforts. They can come early and stay late. We will have some prominent men of the country in attendance. They like to see the fun as much as anyone else."

Sept. 15 is Saturday. That day the Miller Bros.' 101 ranch show will reproduce the "run" to the Cherokee and at night the 10,000 Indians will give a war dance. Sunday morning, John Eastman, a Sioux Indian Christian preacher, will deliver a sermon. In the afternoon the killing of the two buffalo will take place and at night the great buffalo barbecue will wind up the festivities. This is just the rough sketch of the program. Mr. Miller says that he will fill it out with a half dozen other attractions.

POLICE FIND BURGLAR HIDDEN IN A CLOSET.

Disastrous Effort to Loot an Unoccupied House.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HICKMAN, Ky., July ?.—Fulton has been at the mercy of petty burglars, as was Hickman the week previous. A number of houses in West Fulton were victims of the midnight callers, and a white man was seen to pry open a window in a residence in daylight and enter, the family being away.

The police were notified and surrounded the house. The thief, seeing he was at bay, closed the window and hid in a closet. The house was searched and he was found and pulled out and brought to Hickman to jail. He gave his name as Fisher, from Dallas, Tex.

Her Stage Name.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

"So she's another society girl going into the theatrical world. I suppose she hopes to make a name for herself on the stage."

"Oh! yes, but she's so particular. She has looked through any number of novels for a good name, but she hasn't found one to suit her yet."

MRS. STOKES ON HUSBAND'S TURN TO SOCIALISM

Declares She Did Not Convert Him, Though Happy Over Change.

SHE'LL SPEAK FOR CAUSE

If Party Needs Her, She Will Answer Call to Hustings.

SHE DEFENDS HER CREED

"A Word for the People," the Substance of Her Belief.

NEW YORK, July 2.—MRS. J. PHELPS STOKES was hanging pictures!

She was not suspending them on the wall at formal and forbidding altitudes, but placing them within easy and intimate focus—the keynote, by the bye, of all her household arrangements—and her eyes were on the beautiful little Madonna in her hand as she gave her definition of socialism. "A world for the people."

Those five words constitute her philosophy of life. Into it she puts a great ideal, carried into daily practice with the simplest and most convincing logic. Therefore, instead of finding the wife of the son of wealth—she insists that he himself is not what the world calls rich—in rapt contemplation of the good Mr. Stokes may accomplish for the Socialist party by his open espousal of the cause, she was adjusting her theories to the settling of the new house, now in the last stages of completion.

And no one who viewed it could doubt for a moment that when those small, shapely hands had set the last picture in position, and had pulled the last chair forward to an inviting angle, it would be "a world for the people who live in it."

The home in which Mr. and Mrs. Stokes are starting out to exploit their ideas of community interests is delightfully placed on a knoll which commands the bay on one side and a further view of the Sound on the other, about a mile and a half out of Stamford, Conn. The abutment of land is saved from being an island by a small bridge which connects it with the shore, and forms in itself a rustic fastness. If Mr. Stokes should choose at any time to turn the modern structure which spans the water into a drawbridge he would have the freedom of a feudal lord to exclude guests from his estate.

The Stokes house, while entirely unpretentious, is wholly artistic. Mrs. Stokes' red-brown eyes shone and her cheeks were pink with excitement when she admitted that she had helped design it. On a foundation of stone, it is of rough shingles, and two stories high, with pillared portico. The hardwood, inside as out, is in its natural state, showing the graining to perfection; the rooms being finished with rafters overhead.

Mrs. Stokes, in a short gray skirt, with an apron carelessly turned up by a corner, her arms bare to the elbow and the neck of her white shirt waist turned in a little for greater comfort, debated the question of the moment as she slowly moved a sandaled foot to and fro on the floor.

"I know I am credited with having 'converted' Mr. Stokes to Socialism"—with a little amused curl of her lip. "But it is truly not so. He had adopted the principles of Socialism before we met. He had leaned that way for years, and was firmly, thoroughly assured that this was the only solution before I knew him. Well, I may have hastened the fruition, perhaps. I hope I have. But it has been almost unconsciously; for of course I have thought of nothing else. I have talked it at all times. It is my life.

The Hope of Socialism.

"I have been connected with the Socialist party for some time. Mr. Stokes believes in municipal ownership as firmly as ever, as far as it goes. But he thinks he can do more now by withdrawing from that party. It is because it seems to me that he has peculiar opportunities for helping on the thought that I am so glad.

"Socialism means the common ownership of the machinery of production—the real Government for the people, of the people and by the people. Our forefathers had a dim glimmering of that idea, or perhaps a very clear one, when they framed the Constitution. But they thought then that none would encroach on another's rights. But when a father gathered together a good deal, and a son found it awaiting him and gathered more, by the time the grandson took possession he concluded it all belonged to him. This has grown up so gradually that we hardly realized it till it was upon us. And it is here now for us to fight.

"Though Mr. Stokes has repeatedly denied that he is a very rich man, that erroneous impression has crept about. He keeps his position with the corporations, but he takes from them only in ratio to the service he gives them, and he spends those earnings in improvements of various kinds. So I am afraid men of wealth would call him poor.

"Ten years ago Mr. Stokes became interested in the University Settlement when it was still in the old building on Delancey street. He was not a resident there till several years later, of course, but it was then that he first began to understand by actual contact with want and suffering and unequal pay for long hours of labor what there was to be righted. The seeds of Socialism were sown.

"Later, when he lived down there among those people, worked shoulder to shoulder with them, he learned the only cure for the evil. All settlement work tends that way. The men and women who go into settlements are prepared by every advantage of education and living to understand the contrast between those lives and that other existence they themselves have left behind. It is small wonder that they are won over to the cause.

"Even today, though people are beginning to understand and differentiate, you still hear socialism confounded with anarchy. Socialism is the ideal of community interest, anarchy the supreme expression of the individualist. That tells the whole story. But people are waking up. Every movement is an education.

"Shall I speak for the Socialist party during the coming campaign? Yes, if they want me. I shall do whatever I can in any way."

Riley Hatch and Tenor Rushworth of the Delmar Company Settle Quarrel.

STAGE WAS TOO NOISY

Comedian Voiced His Grievance So Loud He Disturbed Miss Blake's Song.

Tenor Frank Rushworth and Second Comedian William Riley Hatch of the Delmar Opera Company do not speak as they pass by these day, unless when it so happens that Hatch as Don Luis Cazzaro and Rushworth as the Count Hernando in this week's cast of "El Capitan," are compelled to address one another by the requirements of the "El Capitan" lines. The cause of their strained relations is a quarrel in which Miss Bertha Blake figured during last week's engagement of "Erminie," and which terminated in a Marquis of Queensberry "scrap" between Rushworth and Hatch in the dark shrubbery back of the Delmar stage last Friday night. Miss Blake is Mrs. Rushworth.

It is said that the trouble had its origin in Mr. Hatch's belief that his great song, "A Soldier's Life," in the first act of "Erminie" missed something of its effect because of noise unduly made by the chorus during the singing. He complained bitterly of this on Friday night—and it so happened that, while he was voicing his vociferous kick behind the scenes, Miss Bertha Blake, as Capt. Blauney, was singing her own song, with a soldiers' accompaniment, and, being a bit new in prominent roles, was badly put out by the noise of Hatch's complaints. She, in turn, complained of Hatch, and Tenor Rushworth, nearing her grievance, spoke to Hatch concerning the matter.

Fought in Darkness.

Hot words were at once exchanged between the two men and it was with difficulty that they could be kept from grappling with each other behind the scenes on the Delmar stage. Then they agreed to meet in more or less mortal combat, with bare hands, after the show, and, according to promise, when the Friday evening performance of "Erminie" was ended, they promptly adjourned to the darkness back of the Delmar theater, took off their coats and went at each other hammer and tongs.

It is not known if they had duly appointed seconds, but there was a tremendous interest in the duel, the members of the Delmar chorus watching its onset from the rear windows of the Delmar stage. The two men were seen to exchange blows, after which they grappled and went to earth. When this phase of the combat was reached Stage Director Stammers and Comedian Young interfered and the two were separated. Neither bore serious marks of battle when pulled away from the fierce grapple.

The chorus girls who watched the combat say that Tenor Rushworth had the best of it, but Mr. Hatch declares that, while Rushworth got in one righthander on the side of his face, he at once cross-countered with a stunning blow that sent Rushworth to grass. Immediately after this, he says, they were separated.

And now it's silence between them save in the line of business on the stage. It is believed, however, that they will resume amicable relations before the week's end.

HARD-HEARTED PREACHER

Refuse to Marry Elopers Without Parents' Consent.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 24.—Aroused at the increasing number of eloping couples who are making Providence a Gretna Green, local clergymen are beginning to refuse to marry young people who apply to them to tie the nuptial knot, unless the applicants can produce the written consent of their parents or guardians. A large number of elopements have caused a big demand for marriage licenses, and for this reason local clergymen are inclined to exercise discrimination in performing the ceremony.

Saturday a young couple from Cambridge, Mass., came to this city and secured a marriage license at the City Hall, but they could not get a minister. Rev. Edward B. Sweetland was appealed to and he refused to tie the knot. Other clergymen who were sought out were equally obdurate and up to date the couple has not been married. This experience, the clergymen say, is only a sample of what other young persons may expect.

FRISCO SCHOOLS OPEN.

For First Time Since Quake Instruction Is Resumed.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The public schools of San Francisco opened yesterday for the first time since the fire and were well attended. As nearly 30 school buildings were destroyed the schools in some of the districts were badly overcrowded and will be conducted on the half-day session plan until more facilities are provided. The conditions, however, were more favorable than had been expected by the educational authorities.

School Director Oliver estimated that the registration is about 60 per cent of the children registered before April 18.

NAVAL REVIEW AT OYSTER BAY

President Will Inspect Greatest Array of Battleships Ever Seen in Our History.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—President Roosevelt will review the Atlantic fleet at Oyster Bay on Sept. 3 from the Mayflower. Either Secretary Bonaparte or Assistant Secretary Newberry will be on the President's yacht.

This will be the first time in the history of this country that such a large array of battleships has been gathered under the flag of an American admiral, as 12 first-class battleships and a large number of protected and armored cruisers will pass in review before the President. The vessels will start on their way south for their fall target practice and will go by Oyster Bay so as to give the President an opportunity to see them.

The fleet will be in command of Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, and the first-class battleships that will be in line will be the Maine, the flagship; Kearsarge, Kentucky, Missouri, Alabama, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts and the new battleships New Jersey, Rhode Island, Virginia and Georgia. The second-class battleships, protected and armored cruisers, which will pass in review before the President, are the Brooklyn, Tacoma, Chattanooga, Galveston, West Virginia, Colorado, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Olympia, Cleveland, Denver, Des Moines, Arkansas, Florida and Nevada. Immediately after the review the armored cruisers West Virginia, Colorado, Maryland and Pennsylvania will be detached from the Atlantic fleet and sent to the Asiatic fleet.

MILITIA REJECTS CHICAGO BEEF

Officer of New York Guardsmen Declares Meat Sent Is Like Dishrag.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 24.—Over eight hundred pounds of Chicago beef was rejected yesterday by the United States troops camping at Schodack Center, as being unfit to eat. The meat was shipped from this city by E. H. Platz, the agent of a large Chicago packer. An officer of the cavalry said the meat was like a dishrag. Mr. Platz explained that the condition of the meat was the result of muggy weather.

"I suppose," he said, "that it was exposed to the air for several hours. By that time it might have looked like a dishrag, but if scraped would have been as good meat as could be."

A supply of meat ordered shipped to Stuyvesant Falls for the troops was not sent after the rejection of the first lot. Agent Platt said that his company did not ship the meat on approval.

NEGRO'S BODY ON TRACK.

Letter in Pocket Addressed "Willie McClain."

The body of an unidentified negro, about 24 years old, was found on a track of the Iron Mountain Railroad, about one hundred feet south of Barton street, early Tuesday, by Peter Primm, a switchman, living at 408 Lami street. Both the negro's legs and his right hand had been cut off.

Yardmaster Dooley says the only engine using the track on which the body was found Monday night was switch engine No. 1921, which switched a number of box cars.

The body was taken to the Morgue. In a pocket of the negro's clothing was found a letter addressed to Willie McClain and signed Zilpha McClain. It was written from Newport, Ark.

Handcock Family Celebrate.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DE SOTO, Mo., July 24.—C. H. D. Handcock, well known as a contractor, both here and in St. Louis, where he lived 15 years, enoyed a reunion with the members of his family at his farm near here last Saturday, the occasion being the seventy-second anniversary of his birth. There were 38 persons present, 22 of whom were grandchildren.

Thought 23 Was Wedding Date

Frank Craig, assistant claim agent of the East St. Louis & Suburban Railway Co., was the most excited young man in East St. Louis Monday because of his forgetting his wedding date. He is to wed Miss Minerva Scott of East St. Louis. Miss Scott is visiting in Pueblo. When Craig seemed worried, Claim Agent Max Braun requested him to take a vacation until after the wedding was over. Craig confidently told him that he was afraid that Monday, July 23, was the day set for the wedding and he was in East St. Louis and his bride in Colorado. A letter from Pueblo delivered to him at 4 p. m. Monday allayed all his fears.

BURLINGTON COAL LINE COMING HERE

Railroad Men Believe Survey From Duquoin Indicates Road's Plan.

EAST SIDE LINE SOUGHT

St. Louis & O'Fallon Is Probably Wanted as St. Louis Entrance.

The Burlington Railroad's survey from DuQuoin, Ill., westward, to Belleville to a connection with the St. Louis & O'Fallon Railroad, following a few days the announcement of the incorporation of the Granite & East St. Louis Terminal Railway, is believed by railroad men, especially Illinois coal road owners, to indicate the plan of the Burlington to develop its recently acquired coal lines in Southern Illinois through St. Louis.

Browning Bros., owners of the St. Louis & O'Fallon Railroad, which runs from East St. Louis to Belleville, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter:

"We have heard it stated that the newly-proposed belt line from Granite City to East St. Louis is a part of the Burlington's St. Louis terminal plan. We have also heard that the Burlington was going to buy our little road or lease it in order to get to the east bank of the river at St. Louis with a line from the coal territory in Southern Illinois, where it has been and is today extending its line. We know there are negotiations offered and in progress concerning a sale of our line, but do not know that the negotiations are in behalf of the Burlington or any other big railroad company. We sell the Burlington $60,000 worth of coal per month, and are on the best of terms with them. We should be more greatly surprised if the Burlington did not enter St. Louis than if it did."

The manager of another St. Louis coal firm operating in Southern Illinois, also owner of a coal road, stated that, as the Burlington had such extensive terminal holdings in North St. Louis, it was his opinion that the road intended carrying its line from the Southern Illinois coal fields across the Mississippi River at North St. Louis by the construction of a bridge. The road was defeated in its plans to obtain control of the Alton bridge. It was also learned that the work of building west through Du Quoin to Belleville has reached the stage of grading, surveys having been completed some months ago.

At the Burlington's St. Louis offices it was stated that the proposed belt line across the river, in fact any construction in Illinois, would be handled from the general offices in Chicago, where the Granite & East St. Louis Terminal Railway was organized.

INSISTS ON AN 18-HOUR DAY

Halfbreed Indian, Who Says It Makes Him Dopey to Sleep, Longs for Work.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., July 24.—Joseph Moss, a French and Indian half-breed, works 18 hours daily, and says that it makes him "dopey" to sleep more than two hours and a half in one night.

Ignoring union conventions and precedent, Moss accepts less instead of more than regular compensation for overtime. Because of his unusual strength he carries a hod made especially for him, his loads averaging 100 pounds. He is paid 30 cents an hour for the nine-hour day and 25 cents an hour for overtime.

Moss wears his heair, which falls below his shoulders, in a twist beneath his hat. He pauses in his work every forenoon to drink two quarts of milk, which is brought to him by a milkman. The income of Moss for "carrying the hod" is said to exceed the salary of the County Treasurer.

KANSAS TOWN HAS JUNGLE OF ITS OWN

Wellington's Slaughter House Pronounced Worse Than Any in Packingtown.

HOGS FED ON REFUSE

State Health Officer Recommended Most Severe Prosecutions.

OWNERS MADE FORTUNES

Exposure Through Local Papers Starts a State-Wide Investigation.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TOPEKA, Kan., July [illegible].—As a result of disclosures concerning the condition of a small packing house at Wellington, Dr. S. J. Crumbine sent out to every County Board of Health in the State instructions to at once make an inspection of any and all packing houses which may exist in the various counties, to determine whether they are being conducted on sanitary principles.

"I have no doubt," said Dr. Crumbinc, "that the conditions of the small packing houses, which are operated to supply the local trade in the counties where located, are, many of them, in a much worse condition than was ever dreamed of in the most horrible descriptions of Chicago packing houses. I don't believe that any of them are worse than the Wellington packing house, because I don't believe conditions could be worse than we found them in that place.

"My order, which goes to every Board of Health in the State, is the direct result of personal investigations made at Wellington. I was summoned there by telegraph. I went out to the packing house complained of, and words utterly fail to describe conditions as I found them. The articles which appeared in the Wellington papers, while they are enough to make a person sick, fail to do justice to the situation.

Urged Severe Prosecution.

"I urged the officers in Wellington to bring legal proceedings against Garland & Knowles, the proprietors of that packing establishment, and prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law. Instead of doing so, however, they decided to secure an injunction against further use of the packing house in its present condition, an injunction against the slaughter or sale of the 30 hogs which had been fed on the refuse from the slaughter house, and to serve notice upon Garland & Knowles that unless they cleaned up their place within five days that rigorous prosecutions would follow.

"They said they did not want to stir up a fight against Garland & Knowles, but I told them that they should show no mercy to a concern which has been doing business there presumably in this same fashion for many years, and has grown rich selling such meat as they prepare at that packing house. This firm of Garland & Knowles have a big butcher shop in Wellington, and supply probably two-thirds of the trade of that city and have a very large business in Sumner County generally.

"I am informed that Garland and Knowles deny the hogs which we found fattening on entrails and diseased carcasses were intended for the local trade. One of the men employed at the packing house said to me: 'I'm going to tell the truth about this thing if they put me on the witness stand, and I will say to you that these hogs are intended for the local trade, and are being slaughtered and sold here right along.' However, the question of where they were sold makes no difference. They were being fattened for market, and it was easy to see that they were in frightful physical condition as a result of taking so much toxin poisons into their systems.

All Refuse for Hogs.

"This packing house stands on the sloping side of a ravine. It is built upon piles, and the refuse is dumped through the floor into a chute. The chute is dismantled, however, and consists simply of a series of terraces, each terrace being a hog wallow, in which the hogs lie and eat the refuse. The blood and other refuse accumulated under the building in a festering heap, and the hogs wade into it until only their snouts are visible.

"When I arrived there the proprietors seem to have been somewhat stirred by publicity given them in the Wellington papers, and they had a man at work inside the building with a hoe, trying to scrape up some of the debris. But it was a hopeless task. The stuff had been accumulating for years. In some places the dried blood, fat and refuse was several inches deep on the floor.

"Over in one corner of the hog lot we found a pile of about twenty carcasses of beeves, which were simply a decayed jumble, and the hogs were busy eating this foul mass. We learned Garland & Knowles have the contract for hauling dead animals from the stockyards, and they are placed here for the hogs to devour.

"Of course the odor was terrible. It can be smelled for a mile, and it was this odor that finally caused the investigation. The slaughter house is a mile from town, in a secluded place."

The State law relating to cleanliness in packing houses is strict, and provides fines of not more than $50, which can be repeated each five days.

BIG TASK FOR MAN NOW WELL PAST 80.

LONDON, July [illegible].—Lord Halsbury, who is now hard at work on his codification of the laws of England, is probably the youngest man of his age in the country. He is 80 years old, and his service as Lord Chancellor was long enough to justify a younger man than himself in giving up active work for the remainder of his life. But he prefers to wear out rather than to rust out, and according to his present habits he seems inclined to work until he is a hundred. There is something Elizabethan in the scope of his ambitions. Where another lawyer would be content to take the elucidation of one section of law for the employment of his declining years, Lord Halsbury is satisfied with nothing less than the entire field of jurisprudence. He is rather like Sir Walter Raleigh, who, when thrown into prison for one of his occasional treasons, began to write a history of the entire world.

St. Clair County Figures Show $82,900 Increase.

Varnish Caught Fire.

Varnish adhering to the sides of an empty 200-gallon varnish tank caught fire from hot soldering irons while workmen were fixing a faucet in the can Tuesday at the tin and sheet iron shop of Frank Sybertz, 509 Clark avenue. Firemen extinguished the blaze with chemicals.

Gold Cheaper Than Steel.

A ton of steel made into hairsprings for watches is worth about $7,000,000—more than twelve times the value of the same weight of pure gold.

FOREIGN SELLING CHECKS THE ADVANCE

London Holders Dispose of 75,000 Shares on the Opening Rise.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Stocks opened a shade lower today, but made a quick recovery to above last night's closing on heavy supporting orders. St. Paul was again a strong feature and the specialty list showed animation.

London failed to look with favor on our advance of yesterday, and Americans in that market showed declines before the local opening. The foreign political situation continues the disturbing element, and our market yesterday was the only strong one in the world.

The London settlement begins tomorrow, and rumors of trouble are in circulation. New York failed to obtain any of the free gold offered in the open London market.

The Early Market.

The conspicuous buying of the early market of yesterday was entirely absent today and after an opening demonstration against the short interest prices dropped back sharply. Foreign houses were again sellers in this market, with the offerings largely in the steel stocks and Union Pacific. Some pressure was also noted in the Coppers and Reading. There was little of importance in the general news and traders are governed entirely by the foreign dispatches. Commission houses were again taking no part in the speculation and the Westerners have been inclined to sell the market on the advances. It is hard to account for the advance in prices yesterday, but the conservative opinion is that the buying was in the nature of a demonstration against some big shorts and that this means was taken to prevent liquidation from long holders, who would have sold out hurriedly if the market had been permitted to sell off badly. That all plans had recently been laid to attempt to attract a public buying movement on the excellent crop situation and the improved monetary situation, there is not the question of a doubt, but as in the Frisco disaster these plans have been knocked into a cocked hat or indefinitely postponed by the developments in Russia. As long as the possibilities of a panic in foreign markets exist, the likelihood of some large international banking failures hang over the market, and should these actually result it would be impossible for them to pass without sentimentally affecting our securities. This is only one of many reasons why the foreign situation should be given the closest attention by market followers. The market was weak at the noon period, with the list inclined downward. Call money was in liberal supply at 2 to 2½ per cent.

LIVESTOCK MARKETS.

CATTLE—Receipts, 6000. About 3800 natives and 2200 Southern cattle, including some good to choice kind, were received. The best natives sold steady, but other kinds were weak. The Southern supply brought about steady prices. Best native steers topped at $5.90 and a prime Texas heifer brought $5 per hundredweight.

ARMY SCANDAL IS HID IN DIVORCE

Expected It Will Come Out When Toledo Belle Brings Husband Into Court.

TOLEDO, O., July 24.—Another United States Army scandal will probably result from the divorce being sought from Sibyl Moore Carson, a Toledo society belle, wife of Clif C. Carson, a Lieutenant in the regular army, with present whereabouts to his wife unknown. The principal plea for the divorce as set up in the petition is extreme cruelty of such a nature as to drive her away from him. Mrs. Carson also alleges that he wilfully and maliciously pinched her and that he drove her out once by stating that her presence was rasping on his sensibilities.

Mrs. Carson and her soldier lover were married about two years ago. She met her husband at Fortress Monroe. Less than six months later they were separated. For a time they lived at Fort Riley.

Sibyl Moore is, and always has been, one of Toledo's most admired girls. Her marriage was one of the events of the year.

America's Cotton Monopoly.

More nearly than in the growing of any other crop the United States has a monopoly in supplying the world's cotton demand. In 1904, when the greatest cotton yield was produced, of the total of 15,508,000 bales the United States supplied 13,557,000 bales, all the other cotton areas of the world producing less than 2,000,000 bales.

MRS. JONES' CASE FAILS.

She Is Denied Divorce From Edina Judge.

Holding that the Circuit Court had jurisdiction in the case, and that the plaintiff's charges, in relation to the "yellow woman" incident, were not substantiated, Judge Ryan Monday denied a divorce to Mrs. Mary Jones from Judge Orvil D. Jones of Edina, Mo., once nominee of the Populists for Governor.

At the trial Mrs. Jones testified that her husband kissed her in the dining room of their home, mistaking her for Kate Bryant, their mulatto servant. She testified she had learned of the Judge's agreement to meet the "yellow woman" and substituted herself for the servant.

GRAIN VALUES TREND UPWARD

Corn Market Is Higher on the Continued Hot, Dry Weather.

WHEAT AND OATS UP

Speculative Demand for Both These Grains Shows Sharp Improvement.

Strength in corn on reports of hot, dry weather in the growing sections caused a strong tendency in the other grains to-day, and all futures closed higher than yesterday.

Trade in the local pit, while quiet, showed some improvement over yesterday and the professionals were inclined to favor the advance.

Foreign markets showed no uneasiness over the situation in Russia, and Liverpool closed ⅛d lower on wheat and ⅜d higher on corn. Berlin wheat closed ⅛c off, Budapesth ¼c off, Paris 1c off and Antwerp unchanged.

Minneapolis and Duluth reported 165 cars of wheat, against 212 last week, 202 last year and 246 two years ago. Local receipts of wheat were about 100,000 bushels less than those of a year ago. The small local arrivals are attracting considerable attention, as they are taken to indicate that the former is not inclined to dispose of his holdings on the present declining market.

Bradstreet's visible figures showed:

Wheat—East of Rockies, increase 3,063,000 bu.; Europe and afloat, decrease 1,000,000 bu. Total increase 2,063,000 bu.

Corn—Increase 365,000 bu.

Oats—Decrease 1,202,000 bu.

Wheat—Last week, decrease 4,377,000 bu.; last year, decrease 1,293,000 bu.

Corn—Last week, decrease 1,333,000 bu.; last year, increase 49,000 bu.

Oats—Last week, decrease 421,000 bu.; last year, decrease 1,771,000 bu.

Corn—Last week, decrease 1,333,000 bu.; last year, increase 498,000 bu.

Western railroad officials have raised their estimates sharply on the Kansas wheat production. Atchison and Rock Island officials now believe the State has raised 80,000,000 bushels of wheat. Six weeks ago the popular idea was 65,000,000 to 70,000,000 bushels.

Clearances of wheat and flour were 146,000 bushels.

The hot, dry weather, higher cables and reports that the crop in certain sections shows an uneven and spotted appearance, gave the corn bulls confidence. Offerings were light at all times in the face of the rising market. Clearances were 134,000 bushels.

Oats were steady in sympathy with corn and wheat and on reports of disappointing yield on account of drouthy conditions. Clearances were 11,000 bushels.

Primary movement: Receipts—Wheat, 1,338,611 bushels; corn, 419,471 bushels; oats, 384,928 bushels. Shipments—Wheat, 722,841 bushels; corn, 278,802 bushels; oats, 308,615 bushels.

St. Louis receipts and shipments: Receipts—Wheat, 151,228 bu; corn, 67,500 bu; oats, 75,600 bu. Shipments—Wheat, 36,470 bu; corn, 51,400 bu; oats, 62,450 bu.

CARDINALS DROP TWO THIRD GAMES

Which, After All, Is Not So Bad for Team in Process of Reconstruction.

BEEBE AND BURCH STARS

Most Pleasing Feature of the Month's Sojourn at Home Was Success of Youngsters.

The Cardinals played the final game of the Boston series at League Park Tuesday, and will depart in the evening for Brooklyn, where they begin their second invasion of the East for 1906.

The McCloskeyites have won 10 and lost 15 games at home during the month's stay, which concludes Tuesday.

While the showing is far from a good one, it must be remembered that the team has been in process of reconstruction during that time, which was not conducive to the winning of games on the ball field, no matter what ultimate benefits will be conferred by the process.

Taylor, Smoot, Shannon and McCarthy have gone, and in their places we have the great Beebe, the hard-hitting Noonan, the murdering Mertes, Marshall and the bingling Barry.

Burley and Rhodes have joined the team and wiseacres say the end is not yet, and that the final days' stay in the city will see other revolutionary changes before the Cardinals leave town.

The feature of the Cardinals' work at home has been the performances on the slab of Beebe, the former University of Illinois pitcher, obtained from Chicago in part exchange for Jack Taylor.

Beebe has lost but practically one game since joining St. Louis, this being to Cincinnati, by the close score of 1 to 0. He is officially charged with the loss of one game to New York, after he relieved Druhot in the ninth inning of the game Sunday week, with two men on base.

Druhot, too, has pleased by his clever work. It is to be regretted that the injury to his pitching arm sustained during one of the New York games will necessitate his staying at home until the Cardinals return.

Next to the showing of Beebe, the remarkable feature of the Cardinals' work at home has been the performances of Burch, the young outfielder obtained by Manager McCloskey from the Altoona Club of the Outlaw League. This youngster has batted his way to the front of the Cardinals' hitters and is close up to the top of the National League stickers with a percentage of .300.

Mertes has played excellent baseball since joining the team and his work will undoubtedly be a potent factor in every game of the team while away from home.

Bennett has improved wonderfully of late in his hitting, jumping from twenty-fifth place in the batting average of the National to eighteenth. His pinch hitting during the season has won more games for the Cardinals than one has fingers and toes.

W. Marshall, the catcher obtained from the New York Club, appears to be one of the finds of the year. The few games he caught for the red-hosed McCloskeyites he proved that he is fast and an accurate thrower, and his batting has delighted the adherents of the Cardinals.

Brown proved that he has not gone back and that his heart is in his work by his great feat against the Boston last Saturday. This youth, who has ambitions to be a meat inspector, should prove a big aid to the Cardinals on their second trip East.

The Cardinals began their home series auspiciously enough with Pittsburg by taking three games of the series from the Pirates. Taylor, Egan and Brown were the twirlers to win their games.

When two games were taken from Cincinnati the enthusiasts began to indulge in dreams of a long climb up the pennant pole, but the series with the Eastern teams, particularly the visit of the New York Giants, played havoc with the hopes of the adherents of the Cardinals, and the League Park boys lost much of the prestige gained by their great work against the Western clubs.

OSTEOPATHY.

Dr. Eckert, 857 Century Bldg., will mail free a new booklet explaining the Osteopathic treatment of diseases, such as Nervousness, Stomach troubles, Rheumatism, Constipation, Headache, Insomnia, Women's Diseases, Asthma, etc.

The brand of pitching which Griffith employs is a style that is pleasing to those who have more than a superficial knowledge of baseball. The crafty judgment he displays in bending them over now and then, of sneaking a fast one through, or floating up a slow one, is what makes him effective. It is a case of outwitting the batter, and Grif is still able to do that without pitching the "spit ball" or using tremendous speed.

Elmer Flick was the fourth player in the American League to make 100 hits, giving Cleveland two of the four who had 100 up to Sunday.

BAD MISTAKES MADE IN SELECTING TREATMENT.

Few men realize the importance of the care that should be exercised in selecting skilled treatment for their condition, and lay no blame on themselves for often being disappointed because of not employing the services of an experienced, scientific specialist. They place confidence in any doctor because he claims to be able to cure them. Men who treat with a specialist of age and experience usually have their troubles removed, and are not compelled to go from one physician to another, after being sorely discouraged, smeared and deceived.

If you want to be among the number I have cured and dismissed, consult me and get cured by the "Dr. French way," which has proved so successful in the past.

JOE GANS DEFEATS YOUNG DAVE HOLLY

Colored Champion Given Strenuous Battle for Twenty Rounds.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 24.—Joe Gans was given the decision over Dave Holly at Pleasant Beach last night, after an interesting battle that went the limit, 20 rounds.

Holly insisted on clinching repeated and used his weight to advantage. Gans had his opponent groggy in the last round, but could not put him down. Gans had absolutely no chance to show his science in clean fighting, but was forced throughout to fight the battle at which Holly is best.

It was not until the eighteenth round that Gans began to make his work tell on Holly. Then he landed several rights and lefts that drew blood and closed one of Holly's eyes.

Early in the contest Gans received a punch in the right eye that cut a deep gash and a little later Holly landed again, and during the remainder of the contest Gans was fighting with one eye closed.

The last three rounds were the fastest of the battle. In the last round Gans landed hard on Holly and for a minute it looked as if the Baltimore boxer would win. Holly's great strength came to his rescue, however, and he was able to fight back and bring Gans into a clinch. When the gong sounded that marked the close of the fight the men were clinched.

SEVERE BLOW TO ENGLAND

It was a severe blow to English oarsmen to see the Grand Challenge Cup leave the country for the first time in its history, writes an English critic. There is also something ironic in it for one who has watched and helped Anglo-American sport to see the coveted trophy carried off to the Continent after the heroic, but fruitless, efforts made year after year by Pennsylvania, Yale, Cornell and other American crews. This feeling is especially poignant, as the Belgians rowed, from the English point of view, in a more unorthodox fashion than any American eight that ever came here.

American oarsmen seem fated on the Thames, just as Henley seemed fated to be the cause of unpleasant international squabbles—so much so that R. C. Lehmann, Harvard's old coach, one of the fairest men in England and a good friend of America, seriously suggests that entries from other countries should not be allowed at the Henley regatta. The latest instance, reminding one of the Cornell case, occurred on Wednesday, when the English favorites for the Goblets lost the race on a foul claimed by the Belgian pair. It appears that there was a slight technical foul, but the Englishmen waited for their opponents to get ever and then began to race again and beat them fairly. Out of this has arisen a bitterness that will rankle between Belgium and England for some time to come.

The victory of the Belgian eight has given rise to serious misgivings as to the English style of rowing. Experts now tell me that Americans were only prevented in past years from capturing the Henley prize by the superior physique of the English oarsmen and their failure to become acclimated during their short stay in England. It would not be surprising if American methods of oarsmanship were adopted to some extent next year.

BASEBALL BABBLE

Powell is making good. Time.

Schafly, the speedy second-sacker of the Senators, had quite a big day in the field. He had six putouts and nine assists to his credit.

Davy Jones of Detroit made six putouts in center field Monday.

Schafly also stole two bases off O'Connor.

Coombs, Connie Mack's new twirler, made five assists and five putouts Monday. Pretty good for a pitcher.

Help, Dr. Osler! Lave Cross, who has been condemned for the last few years, stole a base.

Turner of Cleveland handled the 10 chances that came his way in brilliant style.

Sandow Mertes continues to get his daily steal. He was the only Cardinal who turned the trick.

Long Tom Hughes and Malachi Kittridge of Washington are slated for decapitation. Both are dissatisfied with the Washingtons and would be pleased to play with Cleveland.

President Frank Farrell of the Highlanders wished to spend $20,000 for a brace of new pitchers. He thinks the Yankees have a fine chance to fly the rag.

Manager McAleer was on the lines again yesterday. He has nearly recuperated from his recent attack of sickness.

The Pirates made the Giants walk the plank Monday. Lefty Liefield disposed them, 7 to 1. Shannon made but one hit.

Leach and Beaumont each made two hits in three tries. Seymour did not get a hit.

Frank Sparks, after taking six of the first seven games he pitched, was defeated in the next seven.

Willie Keeler, the clever batsman of the New York American League Club, has made but four doubles, one triple and the game number of home runs.

Schulte of the Cubs made two doubles and a single Monday. Lumley made three hits in five tries. Brooklyn took another from the leaders. Too bad.

Beckley is chased off the lines and field oftener than all the other Cardinals put together.

Arndt and Druhot will be left behind when the Cardinals leave Tuesday night. Arndt will probably join the team in Philadelphia on Aug. 4.

It is rumored around League Park that George McBride will be traded for Billy Phyle of the Kansas City Blues. Burke is anxious to get McBride and is likely to see another face on short when the Cardinals return.

Doc Marshall will go behind the bat when the Cardinals are away and Grady will hold down the initial sack.

Burch and Mertes continue to hit at a .500 clip. Each made two hits in four tries on Monday.

Rhoades or Karger will oppose Lindamann in the last game of the present series.

Tenny made four hits in five tries. One a double.

Bennett, Hoelskoetter and Egan failed to get a hit.

Powell lost a heart-breaking 13-inning game to the Senators. The final score was 3 to 2.

What do you think of Hartzell? Three hits in six tries.

Powell and Wallace, Altizer and Stanley each made two hits.

The Highlanders defeated the Tigers by the score of 4 to 2. Jones, the center fielder of Detroit, made three hits in three tries.

Keeler batted .600 Monday. Little Willie got three safeties in five tries.

Philadelphia broke even in a double-header with Chicago, but still maintains the lead of the American League.

How the mighty have fallen! Boston, the target for every team in the American League, beat Lajoie's sluggers, 5 to 1.

Hoey was sticker to shine for Collins' bunch. He made two hits in three tries.

Big Beebe met his first waterloo June 21 at Boston after winning six straight for Chicago.

Stahl of the Boston Americans has made 88 hits in 79 games, while his brother of Washington has made 51 in 69 games.

Joe Nealon, the Pittsburg recruit from the Coast, has made one or more hits in 60 of the 87 games he played up to the 15th.

The Quakers have made eight home runs this season, and Magee has five of them; Duggleby two. Mike Doolin has the other.

Kitty Bransfield, who was at one time noted for his long hits, has poked out a pair of triples and 13 doubles so far this season.

Lajoie and Chase were the first two batters in either league to make 100 hits and both crossed the mark on the same day, July 7.

Harry Bay, the speedy Cleveland outfielder, has hit very regularly this season, having hit safely in 49 out of the 64 games he has played.

George Stone leads the two big leagues in triples, with 12. The best record this brilliant young player has made in straight games is 19.

A queer record has Corcoran of the Hanlon outfit. He made a hit or more in 12 straight games, then he could get but one in the next 11.

Sam Crawford is certainly hitting them with great regularity this year. He has made a hit in one or more games, nine straight three times.

Schaefer of Detroit has made but one home run all season, but it counted. It was during his last-off with an injury and he was sent to bat for a pitcher, with the score against his team. With a man on base, he hit for a home run, winning the game.

At a meeting of the directors of the South Atlantic League, held in Savannah Monday, the charges recently preferred by Manager Ransick of the Augusta team against Umpire Arlie Latham were not sustained and Umpire Latham was instructed by President Boyer to resume his position as umpire.

William C. Clay, outfielder of the York Tri-State team, has been released. Last season Clay led the American Association batters with .378. His release was purchased by the Boston American at the close of last season, it said for $2000.

There seems no longer any doubt but that Connie Mack has picked up a corking good young pitcher in Coombs. Besides being a pitcher Coombs is a good, all-round player. He can cover almost any position and a good man at the bat, being quite a hitter and fast on the bases.

George Wiltse, the Giants' southpaw Lush, who has a no-hit game to his credit; Reulbach, Stricklett and Duggleby have each won three in a row.

Jimmy Pastorius, the Pittsburg boy with Brooklyn, has lost the last six games he has pitched.

OF Interest to Inquirers

C. R.—Did Garvin, who was released by Brooklyn last year, ever pitch for the New York Americans? How many games did he pitch and how many did he lose? Garvin pitched one game for the Highlanders in 1904 and lost it.

W. G. A.—Ace, king, queen, jack and ten-spot is better poker hand than two, three four, five and six-spot.

B. A.—Did Waddell, the Philadelphia pitcher, ever call in his fielders and then strike out three batters in succession? Never in a major league game, but he has done so on several occasions in exhibition games.

Mack.—Did Danny Shay ever play for Cleveland? Shay played in Cleveland under Manager McAleer in 1900, from Aug. 1 to Oct. 15, and in 1901, from April 14 to June 1.

R. T.—Did Jack O'Brien ever fight Mike Shreck in St. Louis? O'Brien won from Schreck, March 10, 1904, in a 15-round fight at the West End Club.

No Name.—Please answer what AB., H. O. A. E. means in baseball. Abbreviations of the words At bat, hits, outs, assists, errors.

West End.—Is Frank Gotch the champion wrestler? Gotch is champion wrestler of America. George Hackenschmidt is champion of the world.

Harry—Which is the fastest runner, Nies of the Ravens or Burch of the Cardinals? In the absence of a competing test it is hard to say. Burch is probably fastest getting to first base, Nies best going a distance.

Myers—Will you please give me the name and address of the champion 100-yard runner of St. Louis? There is no recognized champion 100-yard man in the city, the title being claimed by several runners.

A. S.—Would like to know how you would decide the following play: A is on third, B is at bat. As the pitcher starts to deliver the ball A dashes for home. The catcher steps across the plate and at the same time the batter steps out of the box and swings at the ball. He hits the catcher on the hand with the bat and as it was his third strike, reaches first base while A scores. What would be the decision regarding A and B? B should not have left the batter's box to strike at the ball. He should have been declared out for interference. A should have been sent back to third.

N. A.—Who is the champion amateur sculler of America? Frank Greer, who won title at Baltimore Aug. 12, 1905.

Kinney's Rounders vs. Norwood

The Norwoods were defeated by Kinney's Rounders Sunday in an eleven-inning contest by a score of 10 to 6. A running one-hand catch and triple play of Will McCrea and John Kinney's home run were the features. Murphy brothers' battery struck out thirteen men. The Rounders lined up as follows: Bud Murphy c, Frank Murphy p, Will Haley 1b, John Kinney 2b, John Thompson ss, Bud McCrea 3b, Frank Aiken rf, Will Heidemann cf, Will McCrea lf. Dick Haley officiated as umpire.

When You Were a Boy

Did you play keeping store, sell lemonade, ice cream, candy, cakes, watermelons? All the children in St. Louis will play keeping store on Lemonade Day, which is next Saturday, for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund. The child who earns the largest sum for the Fund will receive a gold watch from the Post-Dispatch.

BURGLAR ROBS REARDON.

Purse Taken From Trousers in His Bedroom.

A burglar approached James A. Reardon's bed in his room at 4236 Morgan street early Tuesday and stole $4 from the sleeper's trousers, which were hanging on the bedpost. Then the marauder went to the library on the second floor and took a number of articles.

The visitor took an alligator pocketbook containing a number of papers pertaining to contracts, a coin purse, a rosary, an amber cigar holder and a small key.

TABLES WERE TURNED.

St. Lous Fisherman Retaliates on Arkansas Game Warden.

Deputy Sheriff John Boepple, who was arrested at Stonewall, Ark., last week and fined $50 for fishing, says he is going back to Stonewall to fish some more and advises all other St. Louis members of the Stonewall Fishing and Hunting Club to keep going there to fish.

"We've got a right to fish in our club," said Boepple, "and the only way they can bother us is to make it appear that we have drifted outside the part of the lake that the club leases and into the part that somebody else leases.

"That's what they did to me. Then they took me before a backwoods Justice and find me $50. I took an appeal and Dr. Ellis, the game warden who arrested me, took me to Paragould, the county seat, to file notice of my appeal.

"There the tables were turned on him. Two residents of the county, Barney Chafland and Albert Wiser, swore out a warrant against him charging him with practicing medicine without a license, and I guess he'll have more trouble than he caused me. I gave bond and never expect to have to pay that $50. I have a lawyer there who says he can beat the case."

It seems that there is a law in Arkansas making it an offense for nonresidents to fish in waters of Arkansas. Members of the Stonewall Club say the Supreme Court of that State has decided that club members, even nonresidents, may fish in waters covered by the club's lease.

TO MEET BERGER IN FINISH FIGHT

O'Brien Accepts Offer for Another Contest in San Francisco.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 24.—In a statement made here this morning, Jack O'Brien, who is at his cottage in South Atlantic City, where he trained for his fight with Berger, says that he has accepted an offer to meet the latter for 20 rounds or to a finish at Eddie Graney's, in San Francisco. O'Brien received two offers, one from Graney on a 60 per cent basis and the other from Coffroth.

"I am perfectly willing for a finish or any other sort of a go with Berger that will give me a chance to put him out," said O'Brien, "but I don't believe he will face me. He is sparring at the theaters at present, and it is an even bet that he will dig up some excuse for dodging a battle that would put him among the 'has beens.'"

MET AFTER LONG YEARS.

Chief Desmond Recognizes Crook He Arrested at Exposition.

"Do you remember me?" asked Chief Desmond, addressing Michael Burke, 69 years old, who was arrested Monday night at Broadway and Walnut street.

"No, I don't believe I do," replied Burke.

"Do you forget the night you stole the pocketbook from the copper's wife?"

"No, I remember that all right; they caught me with the goods on that time."

"Who pinched you that time?"

"Let me think a minute. I believe it was a mug by the name of Desmond."

"Well, think again and see if you can't remember me."

"Why, you're not Billy Desmond, are you? You've grown to look so old I hardly knew you."

"You tried to hand me something when I pinched you, do you remember that?"

"Yes," replied Burke with a laugh. "I tried to slip about four pocketbooks into your hand. It was good graft that night. Let's see. I believe it was the Police Relief Benefit at the Exposition, wasn't it?"

"Yes, and it was raining hard. All the people stood inside of the door, unwilling to go out in the rain. You had easy picking that night. I remember some copper from South St. Louis was going out with his wife on his arm. You got her pocketbook out of her skirt pocket."

"Yes. I had the business down pat those days, but that was 23 years ago. I got a year for that job."

"Didn't I tell you to stay away from St. Louis at that time? What are you doing back here?"

"I'm just passing through. You needn't worry about me. I'm Oslerized now. I haven't done anything for 20 years."

$400,000 REALTY LOAN.

Lewis' Realty Co. Executes Deed of Trust.

The University Heights Realty Co., of which E. G. Lewis is president, has executed a first deed of trust for $400,000 in favor of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. of New York. The loan was secured by three of five sections of the University Heights tract, including 180 acres which have been improved as residence sites.

Nathan Frank is trustee in the deed of trust, the loan being negotiated by R. F. Hufft, a Chestnut street realty dealer. Four existing deeds of trust, aggregating $297,000, were released.

The note securing the new loan bears six per cent interest. The surplus obtained by the new loan will be used in improving the property.

GOVAN BEARD MUST HANG

Mrs. Hartley Fails in Effort to Save Him From Gallows.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 24.—In spite of the fact that Mrs. Annie Hartley now says that she swore falsely when she testified that Govan Beard, a negro, assaulted her, the Supreme Court has refused to grant him a rehearing and Gov. Davis will now set the date of his execution.

Beard was convicted on the testimony of his alleged victim. He was to have been executed last Wednesday, but the woman came to Little Rock and in the presence of a number of citizens stated that she swore falsely at the trial and that Beard was innocent. A motion for a rehearing was then filed and has now been overruled.

THE SPORTSMAN'S NICHE

When he was in St. Louis recently President Pulliam of the National League said that Cornelius McGillicuddy of the Philadelphia American League Club is the greatest manager of baseball players and baseball clubs in the world.

In justifying his opinion Mr. Pulliam said that Mack attended to every department of the affairs of his club, the selection and recruiting of players, their actual development on the diamond, the business part, gate receipts, expenditures, etc.; in fact, was manager from A to Z.

One especial reason which Mr. Pulliam gave for Mack's excellence in his profession was that he himself took mere schoolboys and made great pitchers of them; that he took Bender, Plank, Dygert and Coakley out of colleges and made them great before they ever went into a big league game.

Mack is an old catcher. He receives his young pitchers every day, criticises each ball as it is thrown, advises them when and where to break the curve, how the slow ball can be improved, the bases watched, the fast one sped; in a word, gives them the benefit of his ripe experience and uncommon penetration and perception.

Undoubtedly Mack is entitled to the crown which the president of a rival organization presents to him. He has a championship team which has cost him scarce a dollar, composed of men who, as a whole, are far from being of the first class. Knight is a mere schoolboy, Cross, a veteran, was not a star until Mack got him, Davis was a failure and had retired, Seybold was very so-so, Schreck was not good enough for St. Louis or Powers for Pittsburg. In all, Mack has two men who were not failures or men of very moderate original ability, Waddell and Murphy, and Murphy, when Mack got him, was a minor league player.

The point I would make is this: If Connie Mack can take schoolboys and make great pitchers out of them, why cannot Lajoie take schoolboys and make them great batters, or Wallace take collegians and make great infielders of them? If there be any good reason why all these things should not be I would be glad to know of them.

This is the steenth time we have been advised Boston plays stupid ball, though it has a Brain on the team. The reiteration falls with damnable monotony on our abused aural appendages. Give us a breeze.

Wish you were all that we wish you, Wish, but as you are not and never can be we wish you we were hearing the swish of your departing train.

Mr. Johnson, who manages the Vane-Calvert Baseball Club, says that he has been unable to inveigle Jake Bene into a game with him, though he has challenged him to these many times.

From a long and very intimate acquaintance with Mr. Bene, we can assure Mr. Johnson that the genial Jacobus is immune to challenges. If he wants a game with Jake he must show him what that worthy denominates "de stuff." "A nod is as good to you as a wink," as the man said to the blind horse.

Some of the swimmers are taking exception to Aug. 13 as a date for the M. A. C. 10-mile race in the Mississippi. What do they want? Meffert will return by Sept. 1, and we reckon Meyers wants to work all summer for the greater honor and glory of Alex. Meyers has been accused of many things, but never of foolishness. So swim, you web-feet, swim.

It is a source of very great pleasure to recognize the stalwart figure of President O'Connor pushing to the front in the cause of clean track and field athletics. For some years we have had little of either, but there be signs that a great revival of both is due in the immediate future. Hence it will be well to have a clean house in which to receive visitors.

I am not disposed to make raison dequerelle of the foul work done at the Y. M. C. A. meet for the reason that the men who did it had seen it done so often and so commonly and with such impunity that it had become to them what bribery had become to the celebrated Missouri jurist who demeaned it a mere "conventional crime." So had team work, which is mostly foul work, come to be in track athletics.

I am very glad to see Mr. O'Connor go after these things. I have small usage for complaisant, time serving, let-very-well-alone, make-no-fuss, Irishmen. Many of these things may become men of other blood, but the Irishman is born to fight abuses and wrongs just as a mongoose is born to kill snakes. The exigencies of American politics have diverted a good many Irishmen from their original instincts. I am glad to see that Mr. O'Connor is not one of them.

The Sporting Editor has been informed that his strictures on the team work of the M. A. C. have failed to exactly please some eminent personalities high in the athletic counsels of that splendid organization. Which worries the Sporting Editor so that he can sleep not more than 10 hours each night and precludes the consumption of more than three square meals a day with intermittent luncheons. As long as the Sporting Editor retains the friendship of Mr. Guyett, Mr. Hedges, Mr. Gardner, Mr. Flach, Mr. Johnston, and of other men who have been and who are loyally working for the establishment and success of the M. A. C., he will take a chance that the bellboys and other employes will not bar his way about when he has occasion to visit the temple of athletics and fine living on Washington avenue.
